SURVEY OF
CURRENT BUSINESS

JUNE, 1928

No. 82

COMPILED BY
BUREAU OF THE CENSUS IN COOPERATION WITH
BUREAU OF FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC COMMERCE AND
BUREAU OF STANDARDS

IMPORTANT NOTICE

In addition to figures given from Government sources, there are also incorporated for completeness of service figures from other sources generally accepted by the trades, the authority and responsibility for which are noted in the "Sources of Data" on pages 139-142 of the February semiannual issue.

Subscription price of the SURVEY OF CURRENT BUSINESS is $1.50 a year; single copies (monthly), 10 cents; semiannual issues, 25 cents. Foreign subscriptions, $2.25; single copies (monthly issues), including postage, 14 cents; semiannual issues, 36 cents. Subscription price of COMMERCE REPORTS is $4 a year; with the SURVEY, $5.50 a year. Make remittances only to Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C., by postal money order, express order, or New York draft. Currency at sender's risk. Postage stamps or foreign money not accepted.

INTRODUCTION

THE SURVEY OF CURRENT BUSINESS is designed to present each month a picture of the business situation by setting forth the principal facts regarding the various lines of trade and industry. At semiannual intervals detailed tables are published giving, for each item, monthly figures for the past two years and yearly comparisons, where available, back to 1913; also blank lines sufficient for six months have been left at the bottom of each table, enabling those who care to do so to enter new figures as soon as they appear (see issue for February, 1928, No. 78). In the intervening months the more important comparisons only are given in the table entitled "Trend of business movements."

WEEKLY SUPPLEMENT

Realizing that current statistics are highly perishable and that to be of use they must reach the business man at the earliest possible moment, the department has arranged to distribute supplements every week to subscribers in the United States. The supplements are usually mailed on Saturdays and give such information as has been received during the week ending on the preceding Tuesday. The monthly information contained in these bulletins is republished in the Survey, and the supplements also contain charts and tables of weekly data.

BASIC DATA

The figures reported in the accompanying tables are very largely those already in existence. The chief function of the department is to bring together these data which, if available at all, are scattered in hundreds of different publications. A portion of these data are collected by Government departments, other figures are compiled by technical journals, and still others are reported by trade associations.

RELATIVE NUMBERS

To facilitate comparison between different important items and to chart series expressed in different units, relative numbers (often called "index numbers," a term referring more particularly to a special kind of number described below) have been calculated.

In computing these relative numbers the last pre-war year, 1913, or the first postwar year, 1919, have usually been used as a base equal to 100 wherever possible. More lately the average for 1923-1925 has been frequently taken as 100.

The relative numbers are computed by allowing the monthly average for the base year or period to equal 100. If the movement for a current month is greater than the base, the relative number will be greater than 100, and vice versa. The difference between 100 and the relative number will give at once the per cent increase or decrease compared with the base period. Thus a relative number of 115 means an increase of 15 per cent over the base period, while a relative number of 80 means a decrease of 20 per cent from the base.

Relative numbers may also be used to calculate the approximate percentage increase or decrease in a movement from one period to the next. Thus, if a relative number at one month is 120 and for a later month it is 144 there has been an increase of 20 per cent.

This issue presents practically complete data for the month of April and contains text covering the early weeks of May (page 1), for which the basic figures in table and chart form are presented regularly in the weekly supplements. As most data covering a particular month's business are not available until from 15 to 30 days after the close of the month, a complete picture of that month's operations can not be presented at an early date, but the weekly supplements give every week the latest data available.

INDEX NUMBERS

When two or more series of relative numbers are combined by a system of weightings, the resulting series is denominated an index number. The index number, by combining many relative numbers, is designed to show the trend of an entire group of industries or for the country as a whole, instead of for the single commodity or industry which the relative number covers. Comparisons with the base year or with other periods are made in the same manner as in the case of relative numbers.

RATIO CHARTS

In many instances the charts used in the SURVEY OF CURRENT BUSINESS are of the type termed "Ratio Charts" (logarithmic scale), notably the Business Indicator charts on page 2. These charts show the percentage increase and allow direct comparisons between the slope of one curve and that of any other curve regardless of its location on the diagram; that is, a 10 per cent increase in an item is given the same vertical movement whether its curve is near the bottom or near the top of the chart. The difference between this and the ordinary arithmetic form of chart can be made clear by an example. If a certain item, having a relative number of 400 in one month, increases 10 per cent in the following month, its relative number will be 440, and on an ordinary chart would be plotted 40 equidistant scale points higher than the preceding months. Another movement with a relative number of, say, 50 also increases 10 per cent, making its relative number 55. On the ordinary (arithmetic) scale this item would rise only 5 equidistant points, whereas the previous item rose 40 points, yet each showed the same percentage increase. The ratio charts avoid difficulty and give to each of the two movements exactly the same vertical rise, and hence the slopes of the two lines are directly comparable. The ratio charts compare percentage changes, while the arithmetic charts compare absolute changes.

RECORD BOOK

As an aid to readers in comparing present data with monthly statistics in previous years, the department is compiling a RECORD BOOK OF BUSINESS STATISTICS, in which data now carried in the SURVEY OF CURRENT BUSINESS are shown by months as far back as 1909, if available. Full descriptions of the figures and reports of how the data are used in actual practice by business firms are contained in the RECORD BOOK. The sections covering textiles and metals have already been issued and may be obtained for 10 cents per copy from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. (Do not send stamps.) Notices of other sections will be given in the SURVEY as they are issued.

PRELIMINARY SUMMARY FOR MAY

Business during the early weeks of May, as reflected by the volume of checks passing through the banks for payment, was larger than during the corresponding period of 1927. The volume of new building contracts awarded was running higher also than a year ago. Operations in steel plants, although slightly lower than in the previous month, recorded higher activity than in May of last year. Factory employment in Detroit, reflecting conditions in the automobile industry, was greater than in either the previous month of May, 1927. Loans and discounts of Federal reserve member banks reached a new high point during the month, while interest rates continued to rise.

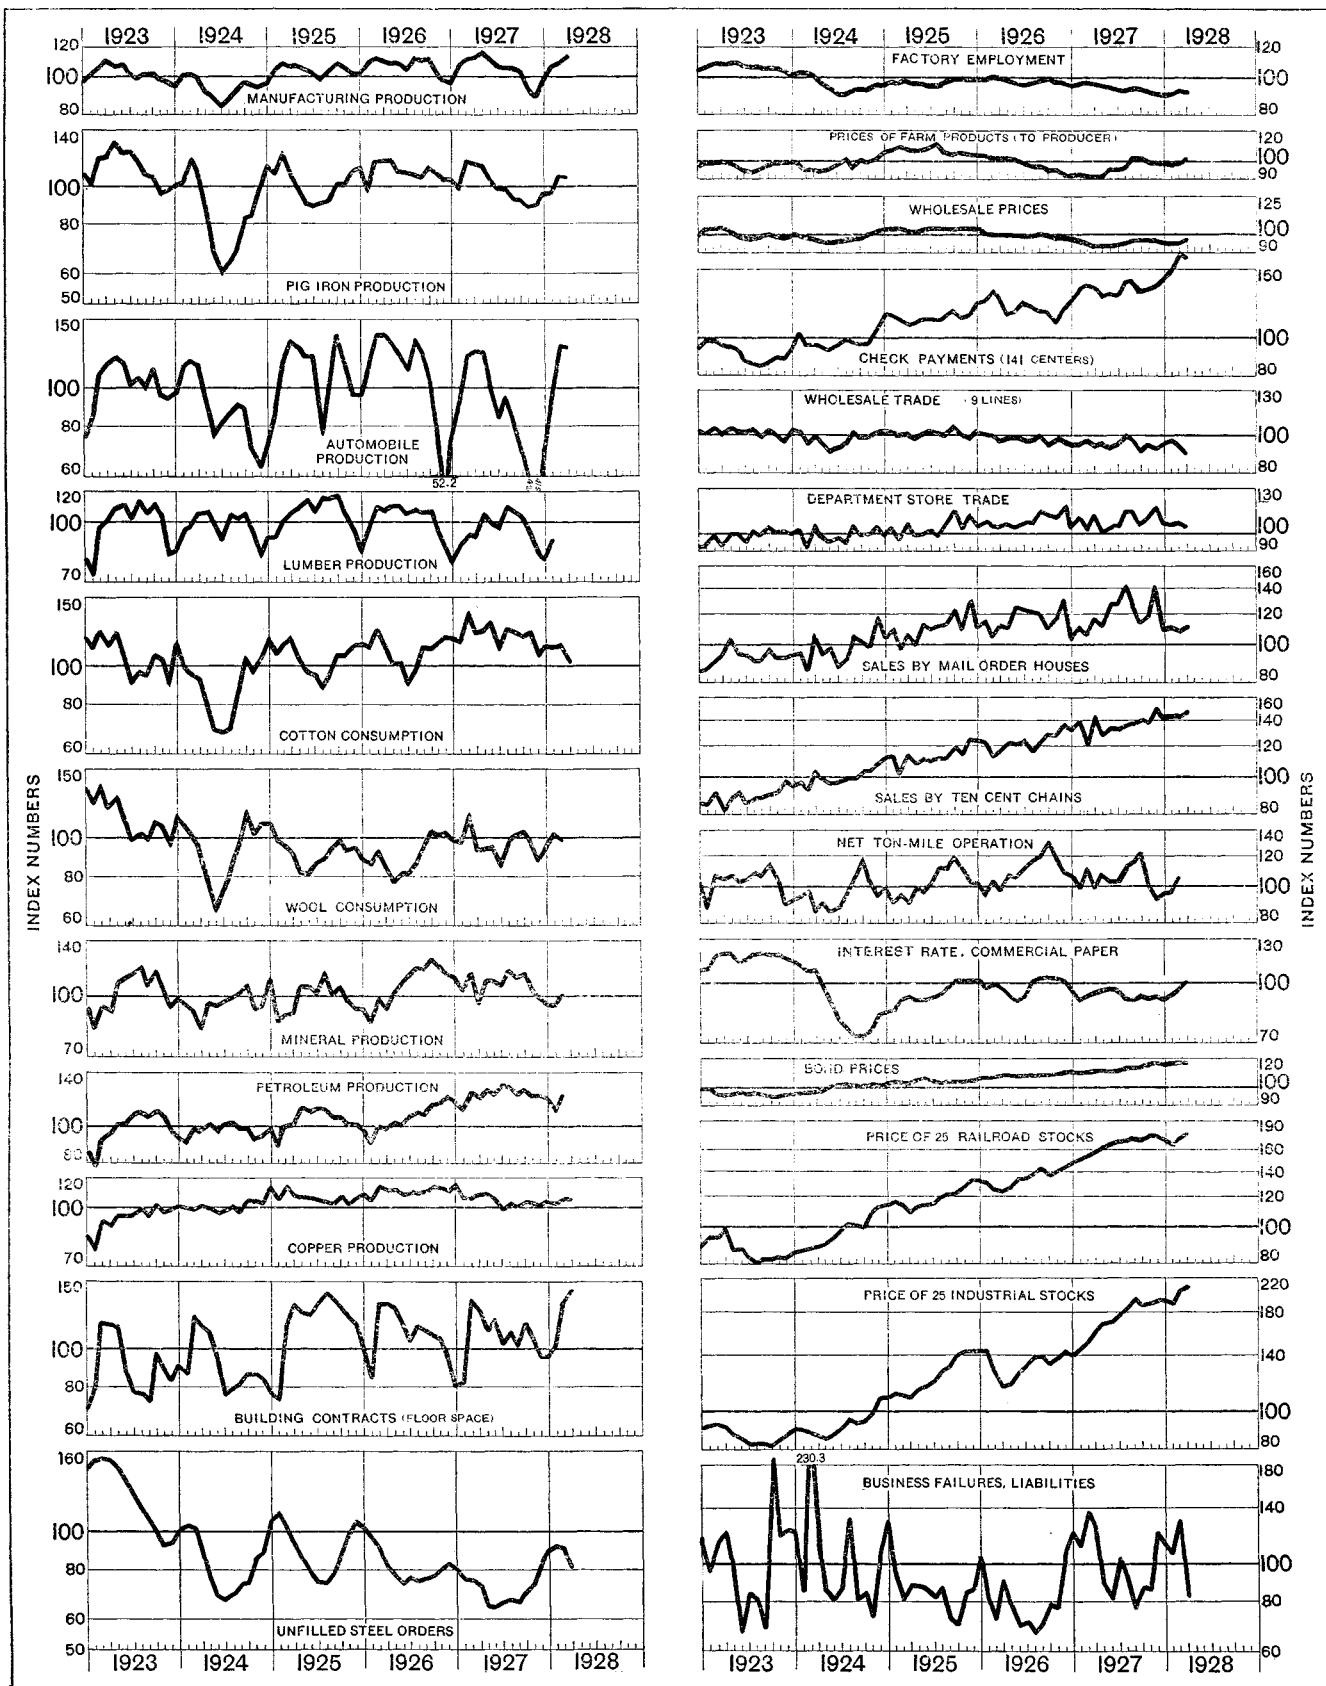

The general level of wholesale prices showed but little change from the preceding month but was higher than a year ago. Prices for iron and steel were weaker than in the preceding month or May of last year, while prices for copper, cotton, and wheat were higher than in either period.

Prices for stocks again reached a new high record during the month, while bond prices, reflecting higher interest rates, exhibited a tendency to decline. Interest rates on call loans averaged higher than in either the previous month or the corresponding period of 1927, while brokers' loans increased during the month to the highest point for all time. The Federal reserve ratio continued to decline, while rediscount rates were generally raised. Business failures were larger in number than in either the previous month or April of last year.

The output of lumber was running smaller than in either the preceding month or May of last year, but bituminous-coal production was higher than in April and showed but little change from May of last year. Car loadings of freight were running higher than in April but were still below the level of a year ago. Petroleum production continued to decline from both the preceding month and the corresponding month of 1927.

MONTHLY BUSINESS INDICATORS, 1920-1928

[Ratio charts—see explanations on inside front cover. The curves on check payments, wholesale trade, sales of mail-order houses and 10-cent chains, and department stores have been adjusted for normal seasonal variations, and that on manufacturing production for the varying number of working days in the month]

BUSINESS CONDITIONS IN APRIL

PRODUCTION

The production of raw materials in April was smaller than in either the previous month or April of last year. Manufacturing output, after adjustments for differences in working time, however, showed increases over both prior periods. Chemicals and oils and stone and clay products increased in production over March, all other groups showing declines, if no allowance for differences in working time were made. Contrasted with a year ago, the unadjusted index showed larger output of foodstuffs,

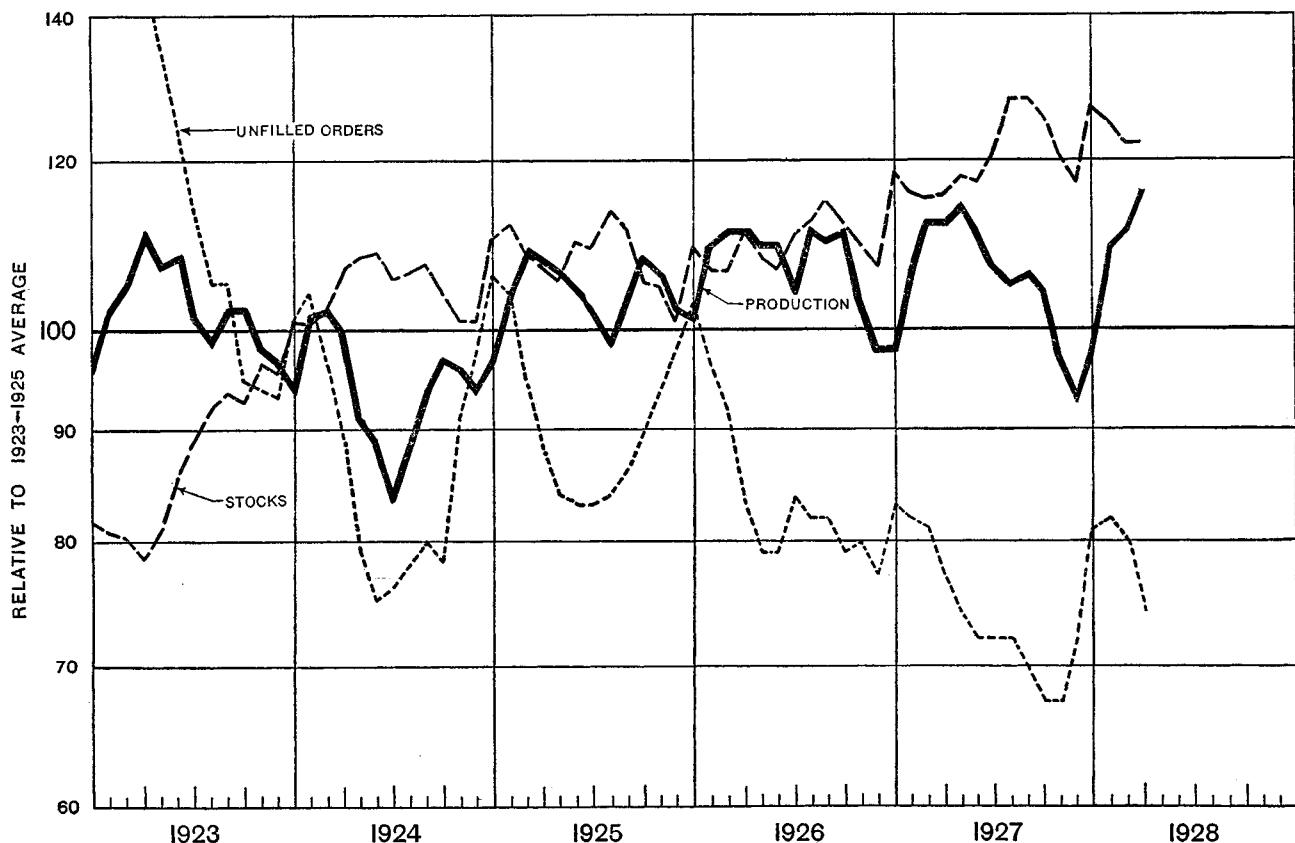

SALES

The index of unfilled orders for manufactured commodities declined from the previous month but gained over last year. All groups showed declines from March, while iron and steel alone had larger unfilled orders than at the end of April than last year.

Wholesale trade was smaller in April than in March, recording a decline also from a year ago. As compared with both the preceding month and April of last year, all lines of wholesale trade showed declines, except meats and drugs, which registered larger sales volumes than in

PRODUCTION, STOCKS, AND UNFILLED ORDERS FOR MANUFACTURED COMMODITIES

1923-1925 monthly average=100. Adjustment has been made for the seasonal movement of stocks and relative number of working days for production. Unfilled orders are principally those of iron, steel, building materials, and textiles. [April, 1928, is latest month plotted] iron and steel, lumber, and chemicals and oils, other groups declining.

COMMODITY STOCKS

Stocks of commodities held at the end of April, after adjustment for seasonal variations, were smaller than at the end of the previous month, but larger than a year ago. Compared with March, declines in the holdings of raw materials other than foodstuffs and manufactured commodities more than offset increases in the holdings of foodstuffs, both raw and manufactured. Contrasted with a year ago, all groups showed larger holdings except raw materials other than foodstuffs.

April, 1927. Retail trade in April, as measured by department store sales, after adjustments for seasonal variations, showed declines from both the preceding month and April of last year. Merchandise stocks held by department stores at the end of April, although greater than at the end of the preceding month, were smaller than a year ago. Sales by mail-order houses were also lower in volume than in either the preceding month or April, 1927, but 10-cent chain store business, although showing no change from a year ago, recorded an advance over the previous month. Sales by grocery, drug and cigar chains were lower than in March, but as compared with a year ago, grocery and drug chains showed larger business, while cigar chains recorded a decline. Shoe and candy chains showed larger business than in March but declined from last year.

PRICES

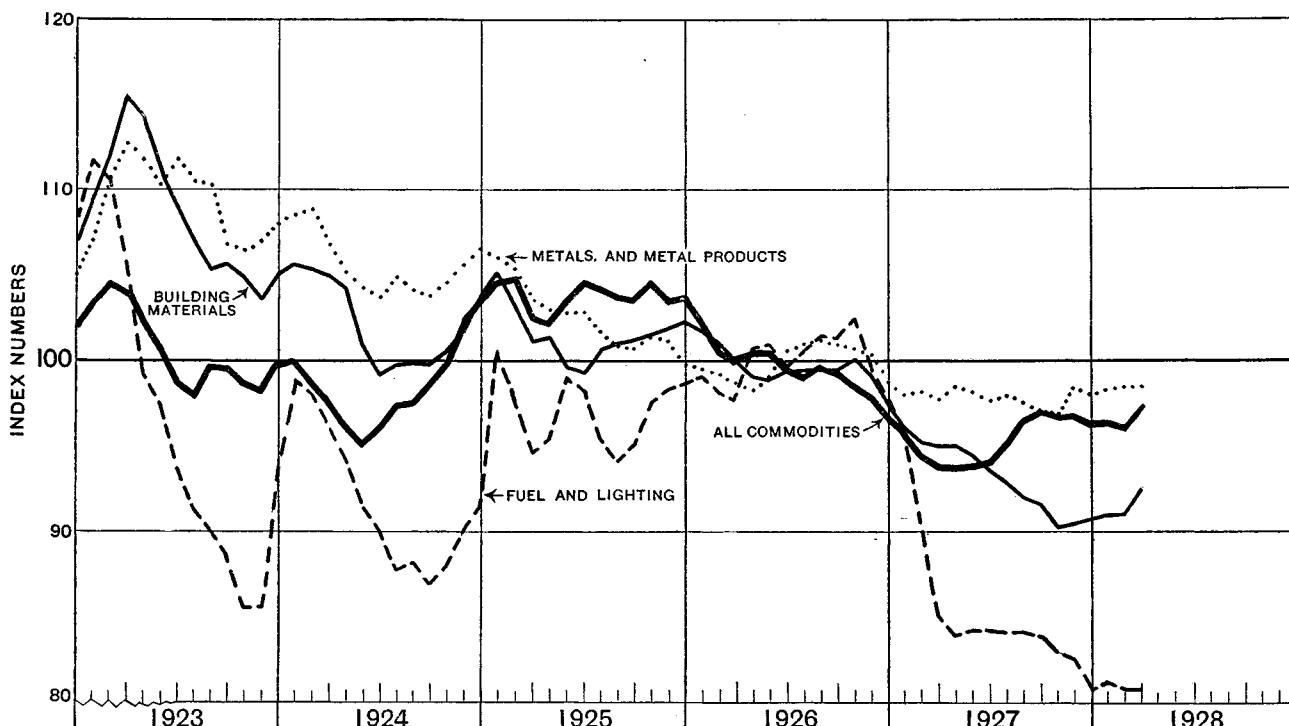

The general index of wholesale prices recorded an advance over the previous month and over April of last year. Compared with March the principal increases occurred in prices for farm products, foods, hides and leather products, and building materials, the remaining groups either showing no change or declining. Contrasted with a year ago, increased prices for farm products, hides and leather products, foods, and textile products were more than sufficient to offset declines in fuel and lighting, building materials, chemicals, and sundry miscellaneous items.

The index of prices received by farmers for their produce also showed gains over both the preceding paper and printing, and tobacco factories were more than sufficient to offset increased employment in lumber, stone, clay and glass, nonferrous metal, and vehicle factories. Contrasted with a year ago, employment was lower in all groups, with the greatest declines occurring in iron and steel, stone, clay and glass, leather and textile factories. Factory pay-roll payments in April were likewise smaller than in March, registering declines as well from April, 1927. Smaller pay-roll payments than in March were recorded in all industrial groups except lumber, stone, clay and glass, nonferrous metals, and vehicles, while as compared with last year all groups showed smaller payments, with the greatest declines occurring in leather, textiles and stone, clay and glass.

month and April of last year. Compared with the previous month, all groups showed higher prices except dairy and poultry products and certain unclassified items, while as contrasted with April, 1927, all groups showed higher prices except meat animals. Retail food costs were higher than in March but lower than a year ago, but the general index of cost of living, despite the increase in food costs, showed no change from the previous month, because of declines in prices for clothing, fuel, and shelter. As compared with a year ago, the cost of living was lower, all items showing declines from April, 1927.

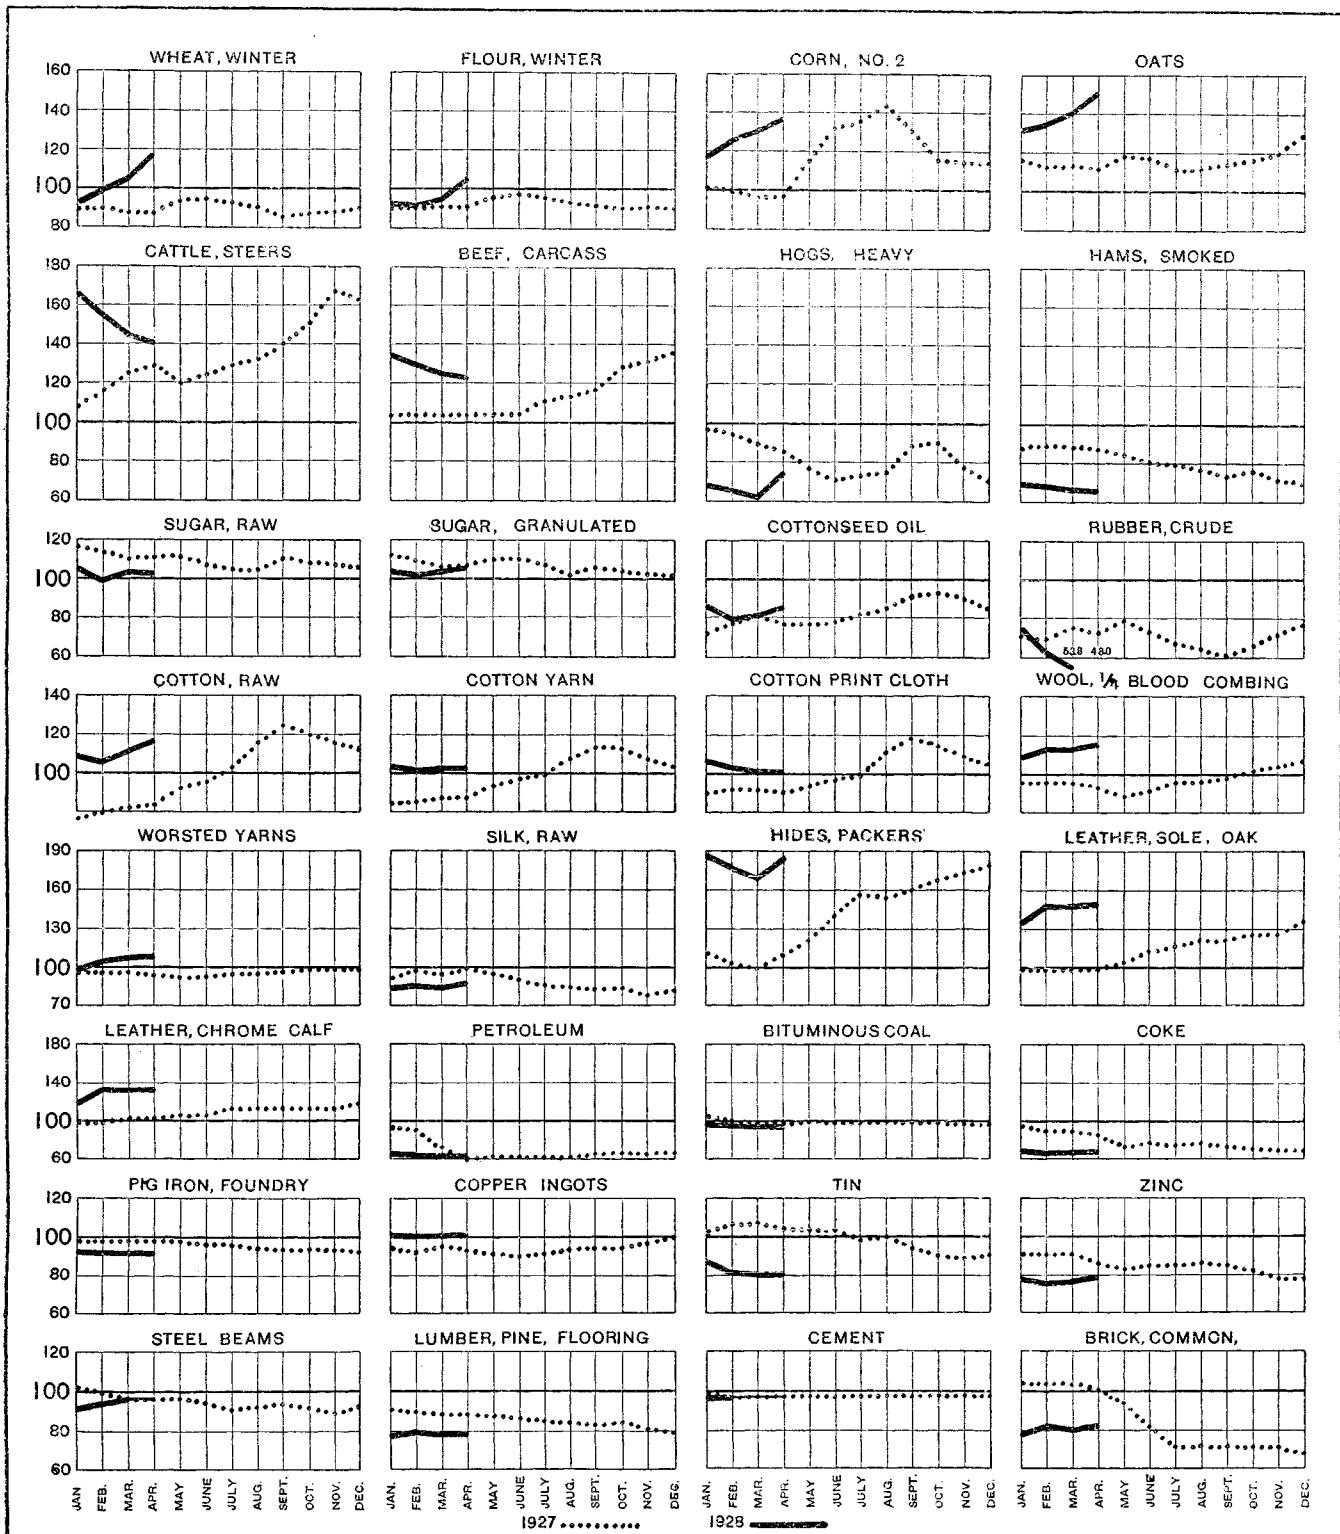

EMPLOYMENT

The general index of factory employment in April was lower than in March, reporting a decline also from April, 1927. As compared with March, declines in the number of employees in food, textile, leather, Reports from the American Federation of Labor show 16 per cent of union members in representative cities out of employment in April, compared with 18 per cent reported for March. Preliminary figures for May show a still further decline. Voluntary quits of factory labor in April were greater than in March, but lower than a year ago. Industrial lay-offs were greater than in the previous month but declined from April of last year. Industrial accessions during April showed a gain over the preceding month but were lower than in the corresponding period of 1927. Wages of common labor averaged higher than in either the previous month or April of last year. The number of applicants per job at employment agencies declined from March but were larger than in April a year earlier. Employment in anthracite mines, although showing a gain over the previous month, was lower than a year ago, while pay-roll payments in anthracite mines showed declines from both periods.

WHOLESALE PRICES FOR SPECIFIED COMMODITIES

(Relative numbers, 1926 monthly average taken as 100. April, 1928, is latest month plotted. Data from which these charts are drawn are given on the opposite page.)

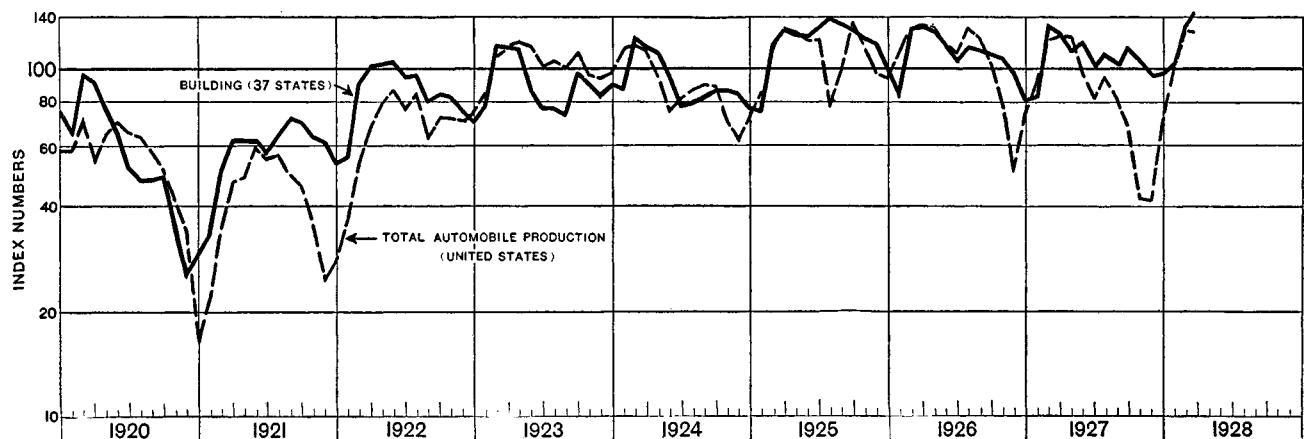

WHOLESALE PRICES FOR SPECIFIED COMMODITIES

Note.—Prices to producer on farm products and market price of wool are from U. S. Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Agricultural Economics, nonferrous metals from the Engineering and Mining Journal-Press, except tin, which is from the American Metal Market. All other prices are from U. S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics. So far as possible all quotations represent prices to producer or at mill.

REVIEW OF PRINCIPAL BRANCHES OF INDUSTRY AND COMMERCE

TEXTILES

Wool receipts at Boston were smaller in April than in either the previous month or the same month of last year, with imports making similar comparisons with both prior periods. Consumption of wool by textile mills decreased from both the preceding month and the same month of last year, with the total for the first four months of the year also smaller than in the same period of 1927. Machinery activity in woolen mills was correspondingly lower in April than in either prior period.

THE TEXTILE INDUSTRIES

[Relative numbers, monthly average 1923-1925, taken as 100. April, 1928, is latest month plotted. Curves covering imports of wool and exports of cotton are plotted from 12 months' moving monthly averages plotted on the end month]

Raw-cotton exports showed declines from both prior periods, while consumption of cotton by textile mills was likewise smaller than in either the previous month or the same month of last year. Stocks of cotton held at the end of April, both at mills and in public storage, were substantially lower than a year ago. Prices for cotton, both to the producer and at wholesale, averaged higher than in either prior period.

Cotton machinery was less active in April, relative to plant capacity, than in either the previous month or April, 1927. The production, new orders and shipments of cotton textiles were lower than in March. Prices of cotton yarns and fabrics showed little change from the previous month but were higher than in April of last year.

Cotton finishers reported smaller billings, new orders, and shipments than in the preceding month, each of these items declining also from a year ago. Operating activity of cotton finishers in April was likewise smaller than in either prior period. Stocks of finished goods, however, were larger than in either the previous month or the same month of last year. Unfilled orders on the books of cotton finishers at the end of April were lower than at the end of either the previous month or the same month of 1927.

Imports of raw silk in April were smaller than in March, but larger than a year ago, while for the first four months the total importation also recorded an advance over the same period of 1927. Deliveries of silk to consuming establishments showed declines from both prior periods but for the first four months the total was larger than in the same period of 1927. Stocks of silk were generally larger than a year ago. Prices for silk, averaging higher than in the preceding month, were lower than a year ago. Imports of rayon were smaller than in either the previous month or the same month of last year, while rayon prices showed no change from either period.

METALS

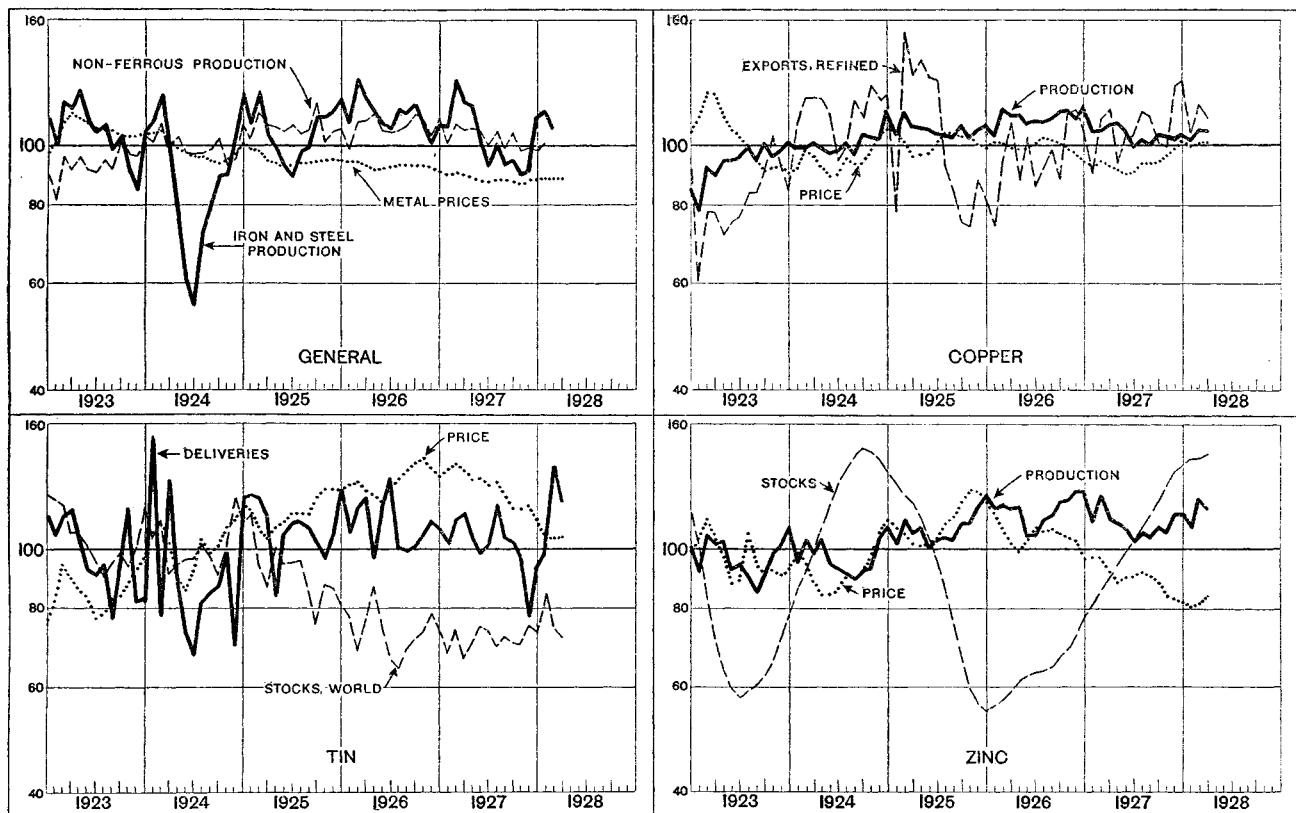

Iron-ore consumption and stocks in April were smaller than in either the previous month or April a year ago. Fewer pig-iron furnaces were in blast at the end of the month than for either prior period, the ratio of operations to capacity also declining. The production of pig iron in April was smaller than in either the previous month or in April, 1927, the first four months of the year also recording a decline from 1927. Wholesale prices for iron showed practically no change from the previous month but were generally lower than a year ago.

larger than a year ago. Both production and new orders for the first four months were smaller than a year ago. New orders for fabricated structural steel showed declines from both prior periods, while shipments in April were greater than in either the previous month or April of last year. For the first four months of the year new orders and shipments of structural steel were larger than in the same period of last year.

Production and exports of copper were smaller than in either the previous month or the same month of last year. Stocks of refined copper in North and South America were likewise lower than in either prior

THE METAL INDUSTRIES

[Relative numbers, monthly average 1923-1925, taken as 100. April, 1928, is latest month plotted. Curve covering zinc stocks is plotted from 12 months' moving monthly averages plotted on the end month]

The output of steel ingots, although lower than in March, was greater than a year ago, both for April and for the first four months. Unfilled steel orders at the end of April were lower than at the end of the previous month but larger than a year ago. The output of steel sheets by independent manufacturers showed a decline from March but was larger than a year ago, while the operating ratio to capacity declined from both periods. Stocks of steel sheets at the end of April were lower than at the end of either the previous month or April, 1927.

The output of steel castings registered declines from both the previous month and April of last year, while new orders, declining from the previous month, were period. Wholesale prices for copper averaged higher than in March, being higher also than a year ago.

Imports of tin were larger than in either the previous month or April, 1927. The world visible supply of tin and deliveries to domestic consuming establishments were smaller than in March but greater than a year ago. More zinc retorts were in operation at the end of April than at the end of the preceding month but fewer than a year ago. Zinc production, although lower than in the previous month, was greater than a year ago, while zinc stocks showed gains over both prior periods. Lead production showed declines from both prior periods. Prices of tin, zinc, and lead averaged higher than in March but were lower than a year ago.

FUELS

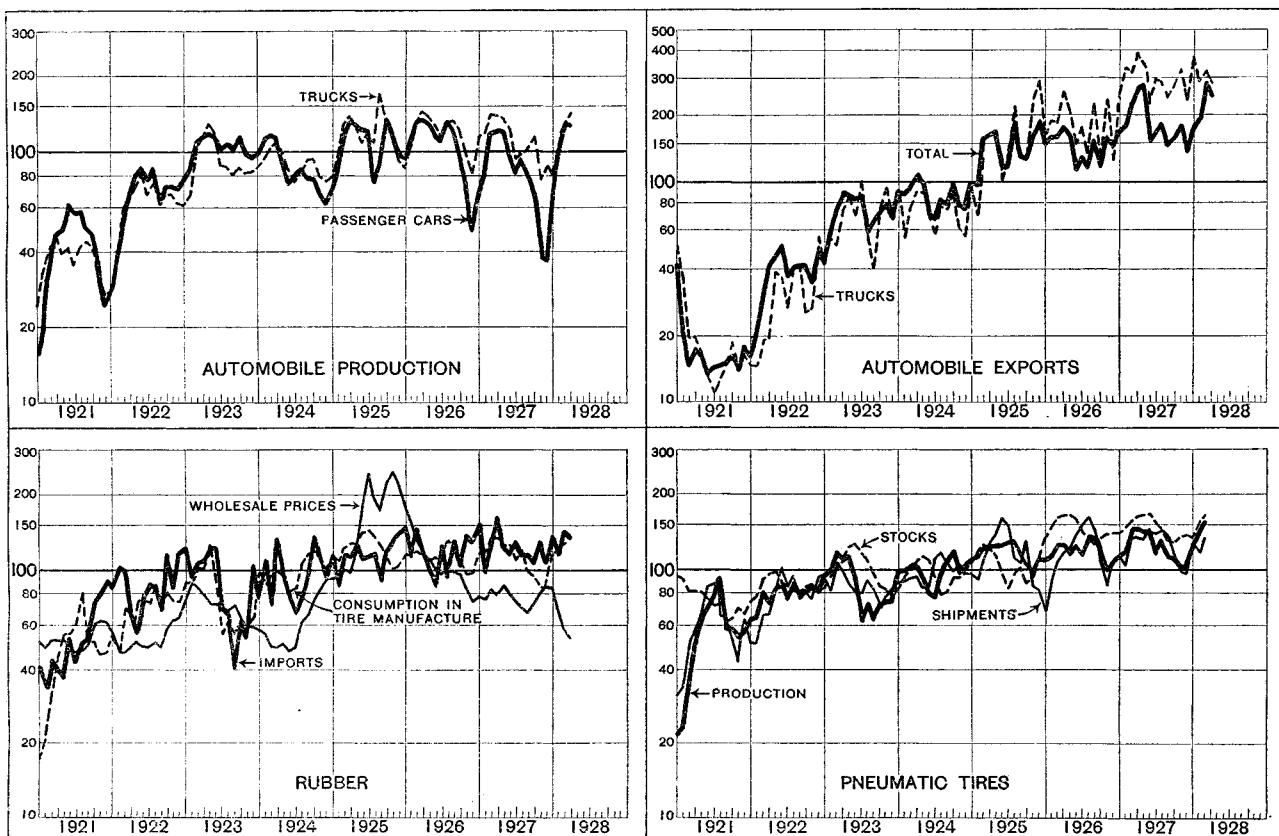

The production of bituminous coal was smaller than in either the previous month or April of last year. Prices for bituminous at the mines, showing little change from the previous month, were lower than last year. The production of anthracite coal, although greater than in March, was smaller than a year ago, with the total for the first four months also showing a decline from last year. Prices for anthracite, both at wholesale and retail, averaged lower than in March; but retail prices were slightly higher than in April of last year. The output of coke was smaller than in either the previous month or April, 1927. Coke prices, averaging higher than in the previous month, were considerably lower than a year ago.

HIDES AND LEATHER

Imports of hides and skins, although lower than in the previous month, were substantially larger than a year ago, while the production of hides, as reflected by the slaughter of cattle, was smaller than in either prior period. Production of sole leather showed declines from both the previous month and the same month of last year, exports of upper leather being smaller than in either prior periods, with sole-leather exports making similar comparisons. Prices for leather continued to average higher as compared with both the previous month and April of last year. The output of shoes was larger than a year ago, while exports of shoes showed declines from both the previous month and April of last year.

THE AUTOMOBILE AND RUBBER INDUSTRIES

[Relative numbers, monthly average 1923-1925 taken as 100. Where available, April, 1928, is latest month plotted]

AUTOMOBILES

The production of automobiles in April was smaller than in March but larger than a year ago, the total for the first four months also showing a gain over the same period of last year. Exports of automobiles were smaller than in either prior period, but for the first four months were greater than in 1927. Shipments of accessories and parts, both as original equipment and for replacement, were smaller than in March, but larger than in April of last year, while the production of rims showed the same comparisons.

PAPER AND PRINTING

The production of newsprint paper showed declines from both the previous month and the corresponding month of 1927, while the Canadian output of newsprint, although lower than in March, was greater than a year ago. For the first four months of the year, domestic production of newsprint was substantially lower, while Canadian production was greater than in the corresponding period of last year. Imports of newsprint declined from March but were considerably larger than a year ago. Imports of wood pulp, both chemical and mechanical, showed declines from both the preceding month and last year, but for the first four months of the year each showed gains over the same period of 1927.

BUILDING

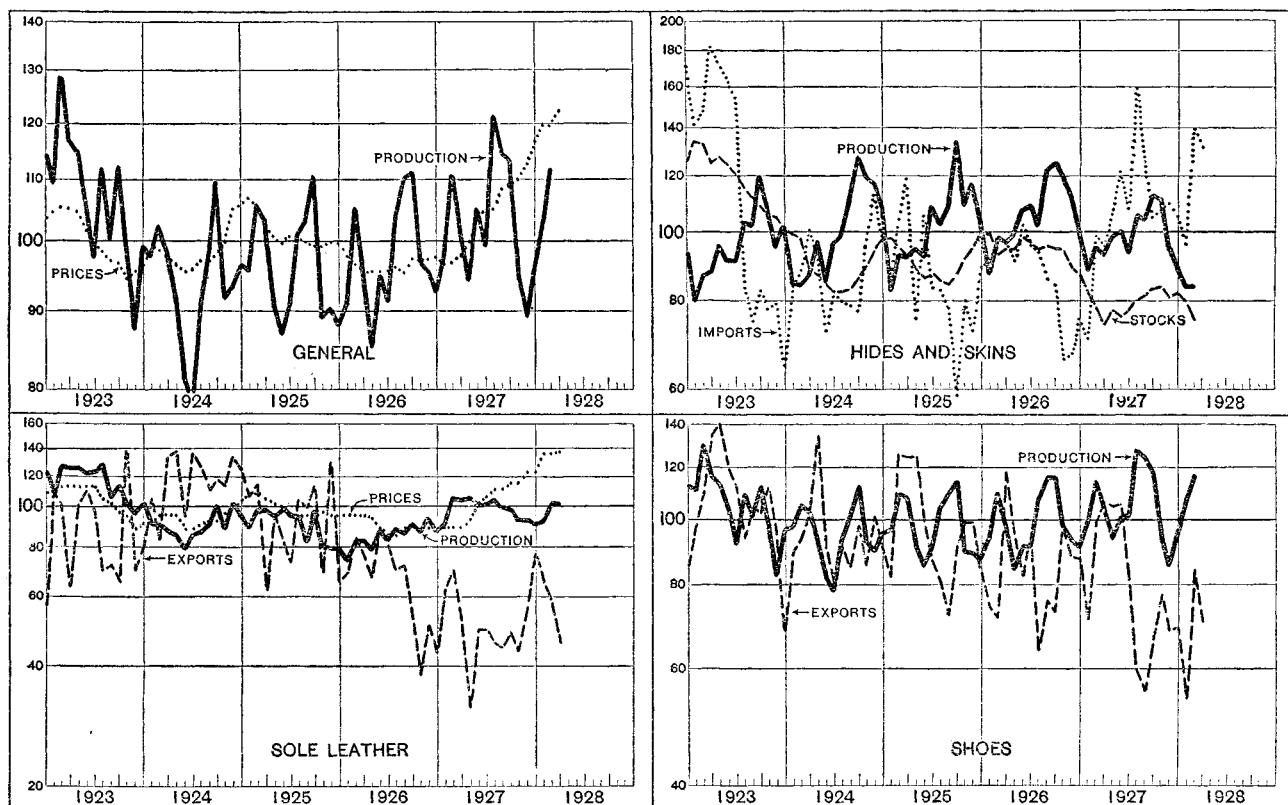

New contracts awarded for building construction, measured both in floor space and value, showed gains over both the preceding month and April of last year. For the first four months of the year floor space of new awards was 13 per cent larger than a year ago, while, measured in value, new awards showed a gain over the same period of 6 per cent. Building costs in April showed little change from the preceding month but were generally lower than a year ago. Fire losses were smaller than in either the preceding month or April of last year.

STONE AND CLAY PRODUCTS

The production, shipments, and unfilled orders of face brick were smaller than in April, 1927, with production also declining from March. Stocks were lower than at the end of March but higher than a year ago. Prices for common brick, averaging higher than in March, were lower than a year ago. New orders for terra cotta were smaller than in either the previous month or in April, 1927. New orders for vitreous-china plumbing fixtures declined from March but increased over last year, unfilled orders showing a considerable gain. Production and shipments of Portland cement were greater than in March but smaller than a year ago, while the output of plate glass declined from both prior comparative periods.

THE LEATHER INDUSTRIES

[Relative numbers, monthly average 1923-1925, taken as 100. Where available, April, 1928, is latest month plotted]

LUMBER AND LUMBER PRODUCTS

The output of lumber was larger than a year ago, most of the principal species showing gains for April and for the first four months. Shipments of Douglas fir and California redwood were lower than last year, while southern pine and California white pine had larger shipments. Lumber prices showed declines from the previous month in hardwoods and gains in softwoods. Prices for both hardwoods and softwoods were generally lower than a year ago. Production and shipments of maple flooring were smaller than a year ago, while for oak flooring these items increased.

CHEMICALS

Imports of nitrate of soda, while smaller than in March, were larger than a year ago, while exports of sulphuric acid and fertilizer showed the reverse situation. Imports of potash were larger than in either prior period. Consumption of fertilizer in Southern States was smaller than a year ago. Exports of vegetables dyes declined from both prior periods, while exports of coal-tar dyes and dyestuffs showed gains. Chemical prices showed no change from either the previous month or April, 1927, while prices for oils and fats, averaging higher than in March, were generally lower than a year ago.

FOODSTUFFS AND TOBACCO

The visible supply of wheat at the end of April was substantially greater than a year ago, as were receipts, while shipments and exports declined. Wholesale prices continued to show gains over both the previous month and the corresponding month of 1927. The visible supply was smaller than a year ago but receipts and shipments were much larger. Corn prices averaged higher than in either period. Total exports of grain declined from both the preceding month and the corresponding period a year ago.

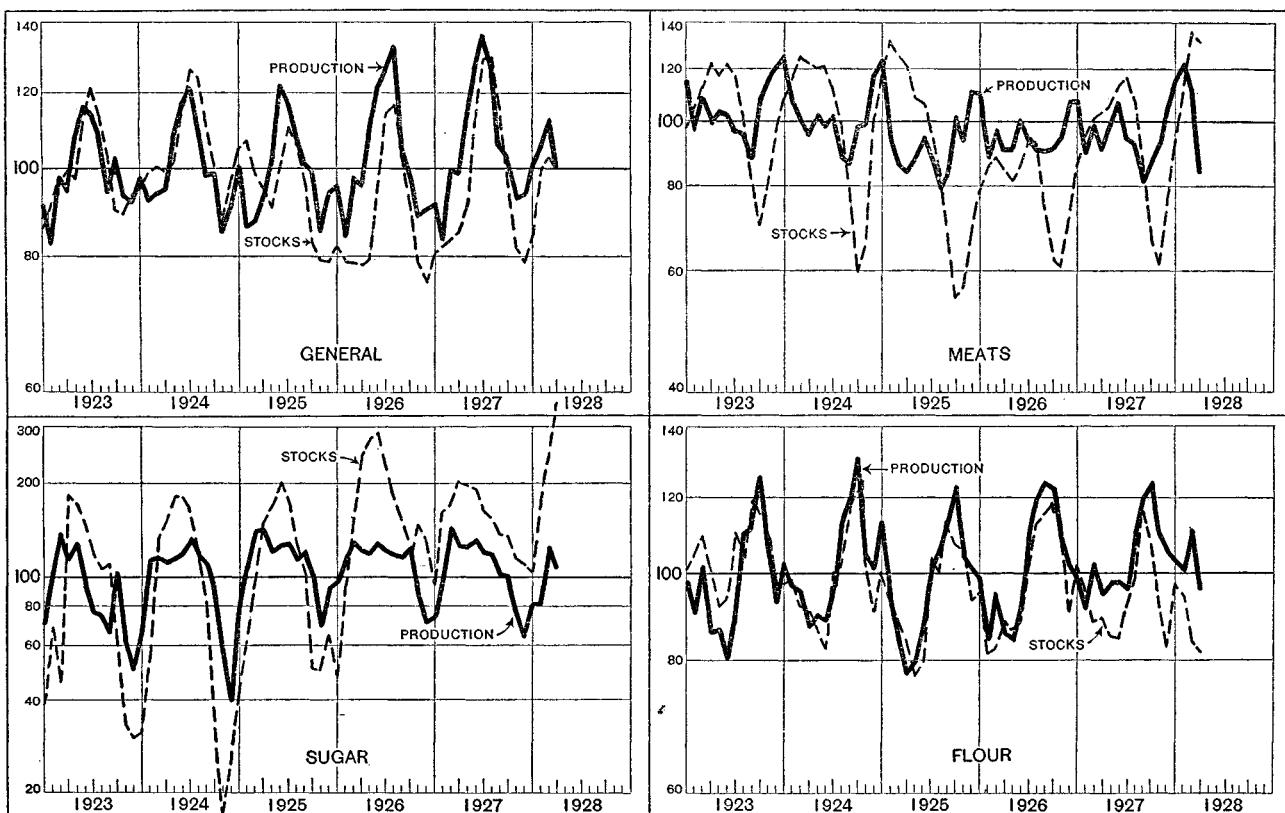

Receipts of cattle at primary markets were larger than in either the previous month or April of last year, while slaughter, although larger than in March, was lower than a year ago. Storage holdings and exports

The factory output of butter was greater than in March and smaller than a year ago, while butter receipts declined from both periods. Storage holdings of creamery butter were considerably in excess of those held at the end of April, 1927. The wholesale price of butter averaged lower than in either period. Production, stocks, and receipts of cheese were smaller than a year ago. Wholesale prices of cheese, averaging lower than in the previous month, showed practically no change from a year ago. Receipts of eggs were smaller than last year, as were storage holdings.

Imports of sugar were larger than in April, 1927, while meltings in April showed declines from both the preceding month and April of last year. Refinery of beef products were lower than a year ago. Wholesale prices of cattle and beef, although generally lower than in the previous month, were considerably higher than in April, 1927. Receipts and slaughter of hogs were greater than a year ago. Storage holdings of pork products were considerably larger than a year ago, while exports were smaller. Prices for hogs and pork products, averaging higher than in March, were generally lower than in April of last year. Receipts and slaughter of sheep and storage holdings of mutton and lamb were greater than a year ago. Prices for sheep and lamb averaged higher than in either the previous month or April of last year.

THE FOODSTUFFS INDUSTRIES

[Relative numbers, monthly average 1923-1925, taken as 100. April, 1928, is latest month plotted]

stocks of raw sugar at the end of April were considerably larger than a year ago. Prices of sugar were generally lower than a year ago. Imports of both coffee and tea were smaller than in either the previous month or April, 1927.

The consumption of cigarettes was smaller than in either the previous month or April of last year, but for the four months cigarette consumption was considerably larger than in the same period of 1927. Cigarette exports were considerably larger than in either prior period. Consumption of cigars declined from both periods, with a decline of almost 5 per cent for the first four months. Wholesale prices of leaf tobacco averaged higher than in either period.

TRANSPORTATION

Carloadings of freight were lower than in April, 1927, all groups declining except grain and grain products. More surplus freight cars were available at the end of April than a year ago. Clearances of vessels engaged in foreign trade showed smaller tonnages than in either the preceding month or a year ago. Merchandise-warehouse space at the end of March was 69 per cent filled as against 70 per cent at the end of February.

DISTRIBUTION MOVEMENT

Postal receipts were smaller than in either the preceding month or April of last year, but the total for the first four months showed a gain over 1927. News-

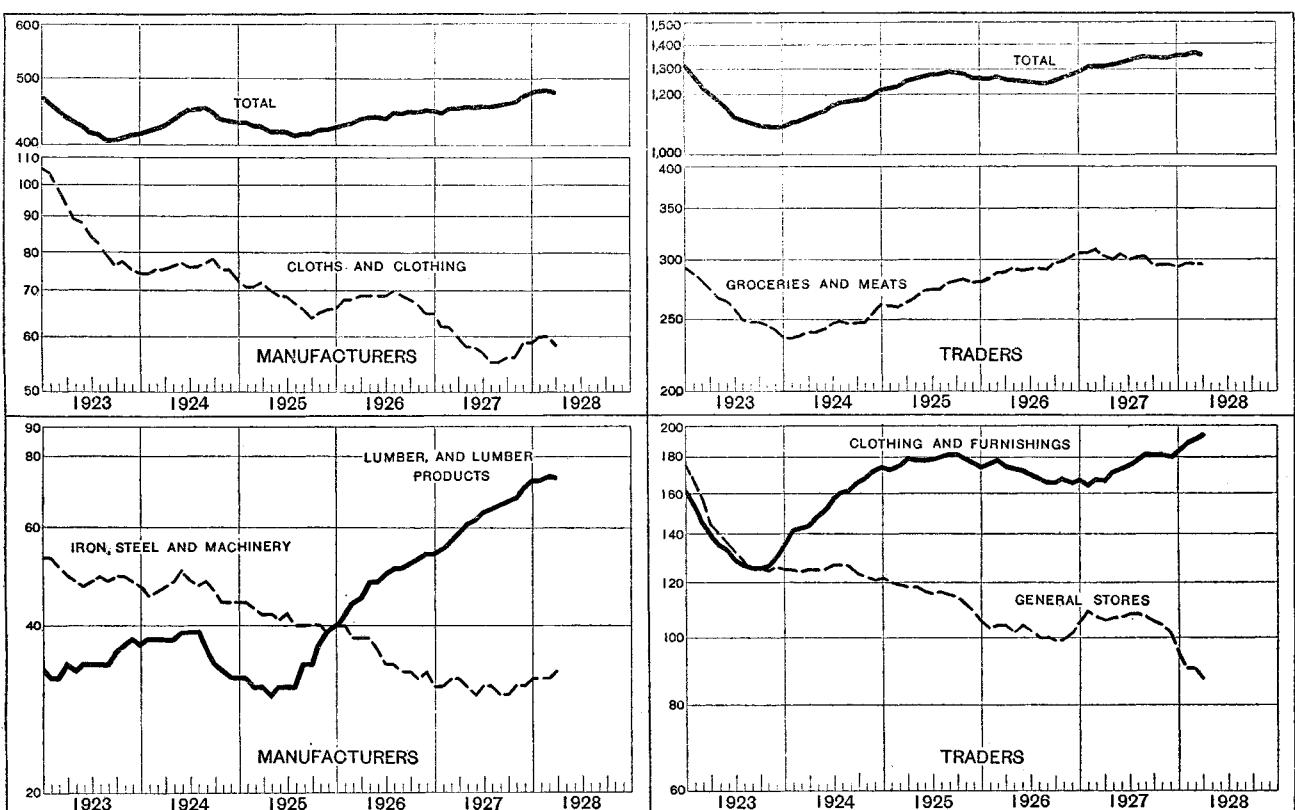

Interest rates on call loans, time loans, and prime commercial paper averaged higher than in either the previous month or April of last year. Loans to brokers and dealers continued to increase while dividend and interest payments scheduled for May were smaller than a year ago. Business failures showed smaller liabilities than in either the previous month or April, 1927. New sales of ordinary life insurance were smaller than in either prior period.

GOLD, SILVER, FOREIGN EXCHANGE AND TRADE

Receipts of gold at the mint were smaller than at the end of either the preceding month or April of last year. Imports of gold, although larger than in March,

BUSINESS FAILURES

[Actual number of failures, by lines, plotted as 12 months' moving monthly averages on the end month] paper advertising, although larger than in March, was smaller than a year ago. Sales of mail-order houses and 10-cent chains declined from both periods, due largely to the influence of earlier Easter.

BANKING AND FINANCE

The volume of check payments, both in and outside of New York City, although smaller than in the previous month, was greater than a year ago. Loans and discounts of Federal reserve member banks showed gains over both periods. Bills discounted by member banks with the Federal reserve banks continued to show gains over both periods. The reserve ratio was lower than in either the preceding month or April of last year.

were considerably smaller than a year ago, but gold exports were almost fifty times as large, making a gold export balance as against an import balance a year earlier. Silver production was smaller than in either prior period.

Exchange on the principal foreign countries showed little change from the preceding month, but as compared with a year ago, most currencies were higher, the principal exceptions being Japanese yen and the Canadian dollar. Imports of merchandise into the United States were smaller in value than in either the previous month or April, 1927. Merchandise exports also declined from both the previous month and April, 1927.

INDEXES OF BUSINESS

The index numbers presented in this table are designed to show the trend in production, prices, trade, etc., by commodities or groups. They consist in general of weighted combinations of series of individual relative numbers; often the individual relative numbers are also given. The function of index and relative numbers is explained on the inside front cover. Many of the index numbers have been reworked to a comparable basis on the average of the years 1923 to 1925, while maxima and minima are given only since 1923, except on this page, thus eliminating the abnormal period prior to 1923. Other index numbers will be revised on the 1923 to 1925 base as soon as the limited printing appropriations will allow their presentation in complete form.

TREND OF BUSINESS MOVEMENTS

The following table contains a summary of the monthly figures, designed to show the trend in important industrial and commercial movements. These data represent continuations of the figures presented in the latest semiannual number (February, 1928), in which monthly figures for 1926 and 1927 may be found, together with explanations as to the sources and exact extent of the figures quoted. The figures given below should always be read in connection with those explanations. Data on stocks, unfilled orders, etc., are given as of the end of the month referred to. For explanations of relative numbers, including base periods, see introduction on inside front cover.

The cumulatives shown are through April, except where otherwise noted. Earlier data for items shown here may be found on pages 24 to 138 of the February, 1928, "Survey"	1927		1928				1927		PER CENT INCREASE (+) OR DECREASE (-)		CUMULATIVE TOTAL FROM JANUARY 1 THROUGH APRIL 30		Per ct. increase (+) or decrease (-) cumulative 1928 from 1927
