- Any U.S. person whose combined sales to foreign persons of covered services and intellectual property were $2 million or less for its 2017 fiscal year, or whose combined purchases from foreign persons of covered services and intellectual property were $1 million or less for its 2017 fiscal year, on an accrual basis, is required to provide data on total sales and/or purchases for each type of transaction in which they engaged.

For Reporters of Sales of Contract Manufacturing Services

Contract manufacturing services cover processing, assembly, labeling, packing and so forth on materials and physical components owned by others. Examples of processes that are often conducted under contract manufacturing arrangements include oil refining, liquefaction of natural gas, assembly of clothing, electronics, and other goods, and labeling and packing (excluding those incidental to transport).

For sales of contract manufacturing services, the manufacturing is undertaken by the U.S. Reporter, who does NOT own the materials—the “manufacturing service provider”—and is paid a fee by the owner of the materials (i.e. the foreign person). Ownership of the goods does not transfer to the U.S. Reporter.

NOTE: A video tutorial on reporting contract manufacturing services can be found at www.bea.gov/be120.

For Reporters of Sales of Merchanting Services

Merchanting Services – Sales of merchanting services are equal to the difference between your cost and the resale price of goods (such as crude oil, grain, and other commodities) that are both purchased and resold abroad; that is, the goods are neither imported to, nor exported from, the United States and they do not undergo significant processing during the time between when they are purchased and resold.

Understanding Reporting Relationships (For use on Schedules A through C)

Transactions accrued during the reporting period should be reported by the country of the foreign transactor, and by the foreign transactor's relationship to the U.S. Reporter. The relationship between the U.S. Reporter and the foreign transactor falls into one of three categories:

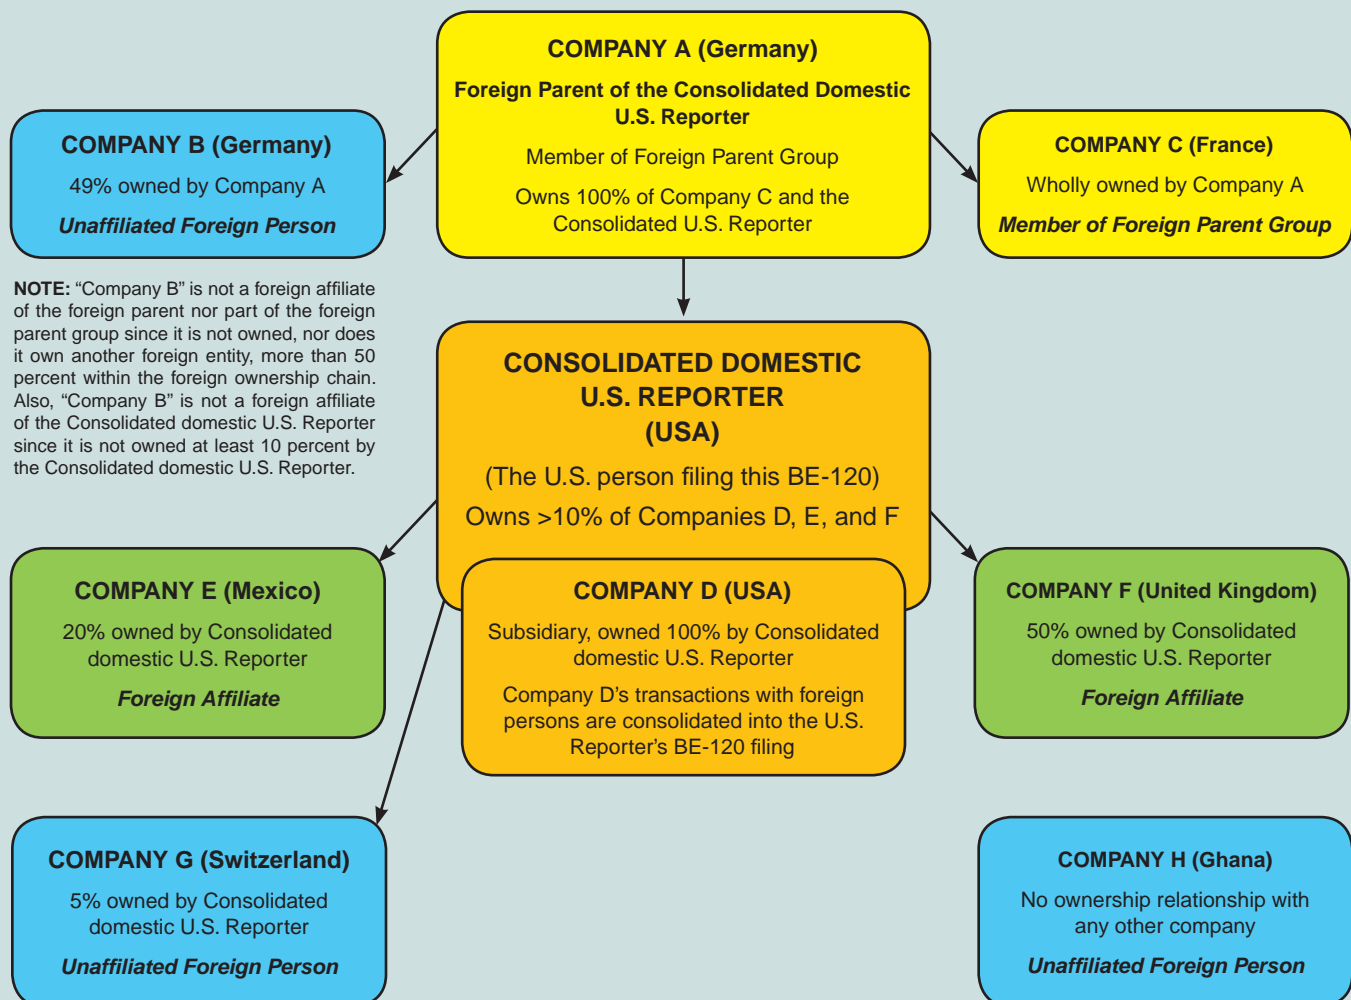

Foreign Affiliates – A foreign affiliate is defined as an entity domiciled in a foreign country that is owned at least 10% (based on voting interest), directly or indirectly, by the U.S. Reporter.

Foreign Parents and Foreign Affiliates of Foreign Parents (aka the “foreign parent group”) – Foreign Parents and Foreign Affiliates of Foreign Parents (aka the “foreign parent group”) means all of the following:

- (i) the foreign parent, which is the first entity outside the United States in a foreign chain of ownership, that owns at least 10% (based on voting interest), directly or indirectly, of the consolidated domestic U.S. business enterprise.
- (ii) any foreign entity proceeding up the foreign parent's ownership chain, that owns more than 50 percent of the entity below it up to and including the entity that is not owned more than 50 percent by another foreign entity,
- (iii) any foreign entity, proceeding down the ownership chain(s) of each of these members, that is owned more than 50 percent by the entity above it.

Unaffiliated Foreign Persons – An unaffiliated foreign person is an entity domiciled abroad that is not owned, or is owned less than 10%, directly or indirectly, by the U.S. Reporter or the U.S. Reporter's foreign parent.

The diagram below illustrates each of these relationships with regards to the U.S. Reporter. Additional reporting instructions are provided prior to each Schedule on pages 13, 15, and 17.

Continue to Schedules A through E as indicated, based on your responses to questions 6 and 7 on page 8.

SCHEDULE A – U.S. Reporter's Sales of Selected Services and Intellectual Property to Foreign Persons

REPORTING INSTRUCTIONS – Schedule A

Complete a separate Schedule A for each transaction type (except construction services, which are reportable on Schedule C) with sales greater than $500, as indicated in Tables 1 and 2 on pages 6 and 7. If you are reporting sales of more than one transaction type, or need to report additional country detail, please use the overflow sheets provided (pages 31–37 of the survey) or download additional overflow sheets at www.bea.gov/be120. (eFile users – select “Add overflow” from the survey selection page.)

Transactions accrued during the reporting period should be reported by transaction type and according to the U.S. Reporter's affiliation with the purchaser. ONLY report transactions between the U.S. Reporter's domestic operations and foreign persons. DO NOT report transactions between the U.S. Reporter's foreign affiliates and foreign persons, between the U.S. Reporter's domestic operations and other U.S. persons, or transactions between other U.S. persons and the U.S. Reporter's foreign affiliates.

Tables 1 and 2, on pages 6 and 7, identify the types of transactions that are reportable on Schedule A and corresponding numerical transaction codes (from Column 1 of the Tables). Columns 3, 4, and 5 on Schedule A correspond to the U.S. Reporter's affiliation with the foreign purchaser.

How to Report:

- For each transaction type that is reportable, enter the associated transaction code from Column 1 of Table 1 and/or Table 2 in the designated box at the top of Schedule A.
- Enter the country(ies) with which you had sales of this transaction type in the left most column of Schedule A (SALES TO – Specify country).
- For each country, enter the total value of the sale(s) you had of this transaction type in the column that corresponds to the purchaser's relationship with the U.S. Reporter (see page 12 for more information on reporting relationships):

Report in column	Relationship with consolidated domestic U.S. Reporter
3	Transactions between the U.S. Reporter and a foreign affiliate
4	Transactions between the U.S. Reporter and its foreign parent group
5	Transactions between the U.S. Reporter and unaffiliated foreign persons

Example:

Your company sold advertising services to persons in Australia. Sales of $325,000 were to a foreign affiliate of the U.S. Reporter, and sales of $2,240,000 were to an unaffiliated foreign person.

First identify “advertising services” from Table 2 on page 7. The corresponding transaction code is 10.

10	Advertising services

Enter “10” in the box marked Transaction Code on Schedule A. Enter “Australia” in the first column of row 1. Enter “325” in the column marked Foreign affiliates and “2,240” in the column marked Unaffiliated foreign persons.

IMPORTANT – Report amounts in thousands of U.S. dollars (omitting 000). Round amounts of less than $500.00 to 0. Do not enter amounts in the shaded portions of each item.

Example

Complete a separate Schedule A for each transaction type with sales greater than $500, as indicated in Tables 1 and 2 on pages 6 and 7. GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

Public reporting burden for this BE-120 report is estimated to average 20 hours per response. This burden includes time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. Send comments regarding this burden estimate to Director, Bureau of Economic Analysis (BE-1), U.S. Department of Commerce, 4600 Silver Hill Rd., Washington, DC 20233; and to the Office of Management and Budget, Paperwork Reduction Project 0608-0058, Washington, DC 20503.

Purpose – Reports on this form are required to obtain reliable and up-to-date information on intellectual property and services transactions between U.S. and foreign persons. The data will be used in compiling the U.S. international transactions accounts and national income and product accounts. The information will also be used to formulate U.S. policy on such international transactions, and to analyze the impact of that policy and the policies of foreign countries.

Authority – This survey is being conducted under the authority of the International Investment and Trade in Services Survey Act (P.L. 94-472, 90 Stat. 2059, 22 U.S.C. 3101-3108, as amended – hereinafter “the Act”). Regulations for the survey may be found in 15 CFR Part 801. The survey has been approved by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) under the Paperwork Reduction Act (44 U.S.C. 3501, et seq.).

Penalties – Persons who fail to report may be subject to a civil penalty of not less than $4,454, and not more than $44,539, and to injunctive relief commanding such person to comply, or both. These civil penalties are subject to inflationary adjustments. Those adjustments are found in 15 CFR 6.4. Whoever willfully fails to report shall be fined not more than $10,000 and, if an individual, may be imprisoned for not more than one year, or both. Any officer, director, employee, or agent of any entity who knowingly participates in such violations, upon conviction, may be punished by a like fine, imprisonment, or both. (See 22 U.S.C. 3105.) Notwithstanding the above, a U.S. person is not subject to any penalty for failure to report if a valid Office of Management and Budget (OMB) control number is not displayed on the form. The control number for Form BE-120 (0608-0058) is displayed at the top of the first page of this form.

Confidentiality – The Act provides that your report to this Bureau is confidential and may be used only for analytical and statistical purposes. Without your prior written permission, the information filed in your report cannot be presented in a manner that allows it to be individually identified. Your report cannot be used for purposes of taxation, investigation, or regulation. Copies retained in your files are immune from legal process. Per the Cybersecurity Enhancement Act of 2015, your data are protected from Cybersecurity risks through security monitoring of BEA information systems.

I. WHO IS TO REPORT AND GENERAL COVERAGE

A. Who must report – The publication in the Federal Register of the final rule implementing this survey is considered legal notice to U.S. persons of their obligation to report. Therefore, a response is required from persons subject to the reporting requirements of the survey, whether or not they are contacted by BEA.

1. Mandatory and voluntary reporting

a. Mandatory reporting – A BE-120 report is required of each U.S. person that had sales to foreign persons or purchases from foreign persons in the services and intellectual property categories covered by the survey during its 2017 fiscal year.

Each U.S. person that:

- (1) had combined sales to foreign persons that exceeded $2 million or combined purchases from foreign persons that exceeded $1 million in the services and intellectual property categories covered by the survey during its 2017 fiscal year, on an accrual basis, is required to provide data on total sales and/or purchases of each of the covered types of services and intellectual property transactions and must disaggregate the totals by country and by relationship to the foreign transactor (foreign affiliate, foreign parent group, or unaffiliated), OR
- (2) had combined sales to foreign persons that were $2 million or less or combined purchases from foreign persons that were $1 million or less in the intellectual property or services categories covered by the survey during its 2017 fiscal year, on an accrual basis, is required to provide the total sales and/or purchases for each type of transaction in which they engaged.

The $2,000,000 (sales) and $1,000,000 (purchases) thresholds for mandatory reporting are based on covered transactions with foreign persons by all parts of the consolidated domestic U.S. Reporter.

Because these thresholds apply separately to sales and purchases, the mandatory reporting requirements may apply only to sales, only to purchases, or to both.

The determination of whether a U.S. person is subject to mandatory reporting may be based on the judgment of knowledgeable persons in a company who can identify reportable transactions, on a recall basis, with a reasonable degree of certainty, without conducting a detailed records search.

Provide responses to all questions as they pertain to the consolidated domestic U.S. Reporter's fiscal year ending in 2017. In the “determination of reporting status” section, in Tables 1 and 2, enter the total sales and purchases between the U.S. Reporter and foreign persons during the reporting period for each type of transaction and service listed. Report amounts in thousands of U.S. dollars (omitting 000). For example, if the amount is $1,334,515.00, report it as $1,335.

If the U.S. Reporter's combined total sales to, or purchases from, foreign persons exceeded $2,000,000 in sales OR $1,000,000 in purchases, the U.S. Reporter MUST provide additional country/affiliation detail on Schedules A through E as indicated in questions 6 and 7 on page 8.

Enter the total transaction amounts, applicable to a particular schedule, in the appropriate column(s) on line 34 of the Schedule A and B, and line 33 of the Schedule C. Distribute amounts to the foreign country(ies) involved in the transaction(s) on lines above the total line on each applicable schedule. Use additional copies of the schedules, or the available overflow sheets, to report additional countries and transaction types as necessary. Reporters of sales or purchases of accounting, auditing, and bookkeeping services, advertising services; other computer services, education services, architectural services, engineering services, surveying, cartography, certification and technical services; legal services, market research services, public opinion polling services, and other management, consulting, and public relations services, must also complete Schedule D or E.

b. Voluntary reporting

If, during fiscal year 2017, combined sales were $2 million or less, on an accrual basis, the U.S. Reporter may, in addition to providing the required total for each type of transaction, report sales at a country and affiliation level of detail on the applicable mandatory schedule(s). If, during fiscal year 2017, combined purchases were $1 million or less, on an accrual basis, the U.S. Reporter may, in addition to providing the required total for each type of transaction, report purchases at a country and affiliation level of detail on the applicable mandatory schedule(s). Provision of this additional detail is voluntary. The estimates may be judgmental, that is, based on recall, without conducting a detailed records search.

c. Exemption – Any U.S. person that receives the BE-120 survey form from BEA, but is not subject to the reporting requirements, must file an exemption claim by completing the determination of reporting status section (pages 1-8 of the survey) and returning it to BEA by the due date of the survey.

2. Consolidation – A U.S. enterprise should file a single Form BE-120 covering combined (total) intellectual property and services transactions of all its domestic subsidiaries and parts.

Consolidating unincorporated enterprises

Consolidate into your BE-120 report the transactions of unincorporated enterprises in which your company has voting control. Please see the following items on determining the voting interest in typical unincorporated enterprises.

Partnerships – Most partnerships are either general partnerships or limited partnerships. Consolidation of partnerships and inclusion of their intellectual property and services transactions (sales and purchases) on the BE-120 survey is based on voting control.

a. General partnerships

Determination of voting interest – The determination of the percentage of voting interest of a general partner is based on who controls the partnership. The percentage of voting interest is not based on the percentage of ownership in the partnership's equity. The general partners are presumed to control a general partnership.

Unless a clause to the contrary is contained in the partnership agreement, a general partnership is presumed to be controlled equally by each of the general partners.

Managing partners – If one general partner is designated as the managing partner, responsible for the day-to-day operations of the partnership, this does not necessarily transfer control of the partnership to the managing partner. If the managing partner must obtain approval for annual operating budgets and for decisions relating to significant management issues from the other general partners, then the managing partner does not have a 100 percent voting interest in the partnership.

b. Limited partnerships

Determination of voting interest – The determination of the percentage of voting interest in a limited partnership is based on who controls the partnership. The percentage of voting interest is not based on the percentage of ownership in the partnership's equity. In most cases, the general partner is presumed to control a limited partnership, and therefore, have a 100 percent voting interest in the limited partnership. If there is more than one general partner, the partnership is presumed to be controlled equally by each of the general partners, unless a clause to the contrary is contained in the partnership agreement. Therefore, unless a clause to the contrary is contained in the partnership agreement, limited partners are presumed to have zero voting interest in a limited partnership.

c. Limited liability companies (LLCs)

Determination of voting interest – The determination of the percentage of voting interest in an LLC is based on who controls the LLC. The percentage of voting interest is not based on the percentage of ownership in the LLC's equity. LLCs are presumed to be controlled equally by each of its members (owners), unless a clause to the contrary is contained in the articles of organization or in the operating agreement.

Managing member – If one member is designated as the managing member responsible for the day-to-day operations of the LLC, this does not necessarily transfer control of the LLC to the managing member. If the managing member must obtain approval for annual operating budgets and for decisions relating to other significant management issues from the other members, then the managing member does not have a 100 percent voting interest in the LLC.

B. BE-120 definition of transactions

– Transactions covered by this survey consist of (i) sales and purchases related to certain intellectual property rights (see Table 1 on page 6 for a list of intellectual property-related transactions covered by this survey and Part IV. of the General Instructions on pages 26 and 27 for definitions) and (ii) sales and purchases of selected services (see Table 2 on page 7 for a list of services covered by this survey and Part IV. of the General Instructions on pages 24 to 30 for definitions).

Types of transactions excluded from the scope of this survey:

1. Sales and purchases of goods. Trade in goods involves products that have a physical form, and includes payments or receipts for electricity. Limited exceptions for the sale and purchase of goods apply to sales of construction and merchanting services. See pages 12 and 17 for more information.
2. Sales and purchases of financial instruments, including stocks, bonds, financial derivatives, loans, mutual fund shares, and negotiable CDs. (However, securities brokerage is a service.)
3. Income on financial instruments (interest, dividends, capital gain distributions, etc).
4. Compensation paid to, or received by, employees.
5. Penalties and fines and gifts or grants in the form of goods and cash (sometimes called "transfers").

For additional clarifications of reporting requirements, please read the BE-120 survey instructions, call (301) 278-9303, or send an e-mail to be-120help@bea.gov.

C. BE-120 definition of sales or purchases

– It should be noted that an item other than sales or purchases may be used as the measure of a given service for purposes of determining whether the threshold for mandatory reporting of the service is exceeded. Note that in several cases – advertising; telecommunications; merchanting; miscellaneous disbursements (included in transaction code 42 in Part IV. of these General Instructions) – measures other than, or in addition to, sales or purchases of services should be used. See Part IV. of these General Instructions for an explanation of what measure should be applied in determining whether you are subject to the BE-120 survey's mandatory reporting requirements for a given service.

D. Clarification of coverage and special situations

1. Reporting period – Form BE-120 should be filed for the U.S. Reporter's fiscal year ending in 2017.
2. Date of recording transactions – Transactions are to be reported on an accrual basis. However, telecommunications services should be reported on a settlement basis.
3. Withholding taxes – Data should be reported gross (before deduction) of U.S. and foreign withholding taxes.
4. Services covered regardless of where performed – Sales to or purchases from foreign persons for services should be reported regardless of whether the services were performed in the United States or abroad. Transactions should be reported based on the resident country of the primary beneficiary (purchaser) and primary provider (seller) of the service(s) performed.
5. Services or intellectual property bundled with goods or with other services and not separately valued – When a sale or purchase is for both goods and services or intellectual property, or of several services or intellectual property, that cannot be unbundled (i.e., the goods and/or services/intellectual property are not separately valued), it should be classified based on whichever accounts for a majority of the value or on the basis of the reporter's customary practice.
6. Accounting for purchases – Purchases of services or intellectual property should be included without regard to whether they are charged as an expense on the income statement, capitalized, or charged to inventories.
7. Projects with U.S. Government nonmilitary agencies – Report information on services that are provided abroad for U.S. Government nonmilitary agencies, such as the United States Agency for International Development (USAID) and the United States Information Agency, or that are part of an aid or technical cooperation program of the Government with foreign persons. However, do not report services provided to the U.S. Department of Defense or any of its agencies, such as the Army Corps of Engineers. Report funds received from the U.S. Government on Schedule A as sales to the country where the services are provided, and report any foreign expenses related to those services as purchases on Schedule B.
8. International organizations – Report transactions with international organizations, which, according to balance of payments conventions, are considered foreign persons even if they are headquartered in the United States. Enter the abbreviated designation, "Int'l Org." as the name of the country of the foreign party to the transaction.
9. Reciprocal exchanges – Include the value of reciprocal exchanges; i.e., transactions involving barter. On Schedule A, value your sales to the foreign participant in the reciprocal exchange at market rates, not at the actual cost of performing the services. On Schedule B, value your purchases from the foreign participant at the same amount as the sale reported on Schedule A.

III. OTHER INSTRUCTIONS

A. Distinguishing between unaffiliated and affiliated transactions

This survey covers U.S. persons' direct transactions, both sales and payments (purchases), with affiliated and unaffiliated foreign persons.

Examples of affiliated transactions are:

1. A transaction between a U.S. person (U.S. parent) and its foreign affiliate.
2. A transaction between a U.S. person (U.S. affiliate) and its foreign parent(s) or member(s) of the foreign parent group(s).

Examples of unaffiliated transactions are:

1. A transaction between a U.S. person and an unaffiliated foreign person.
2. A transaction between one U.S. person and another U.S. person's foreign affiliate. Such a transaction is reportable by the first U.S. person.

Examples of transactions that are not reportable are:

1. A transaction between a U.S. affiliate of a foreign parent and another U.S. person.
2. A transaction between a U.S. parent's foreign affiliate and another foreign person.

B. Understanding the U.S. Reporter's relationship with foreign persons

The relationship between the U.S. Reporter and the foreign persons fall into one of three categories:

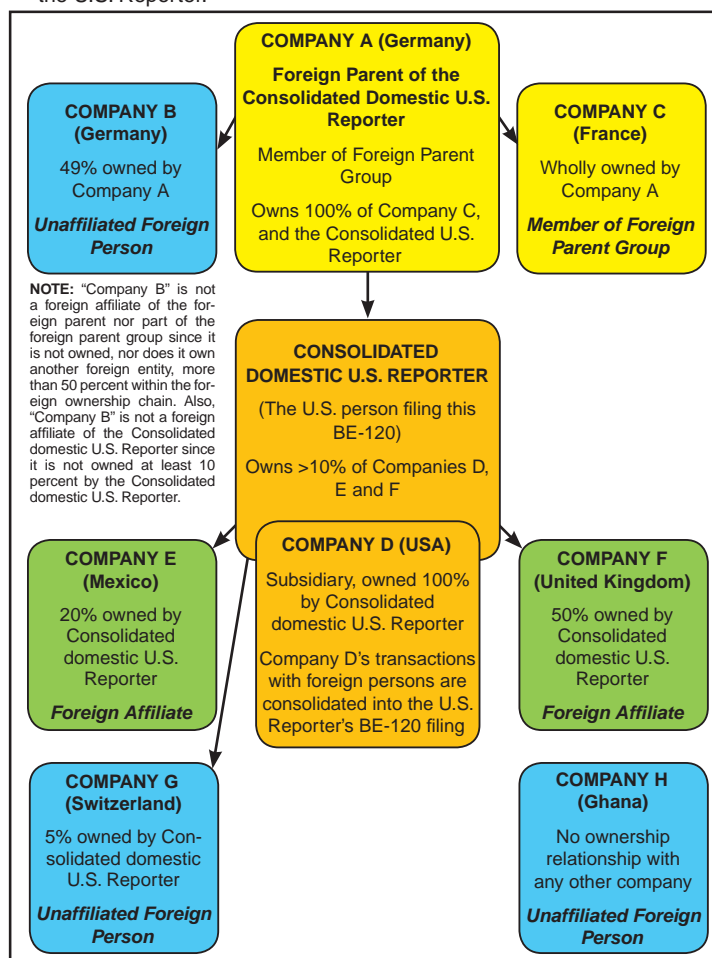

Foreign affiliates – A foreign affiliate is defined as an entity domiciled in a foreign country that is owned at least 10 percent, directly or indirectly, by the U.S. Reporter.

Foreign Parents (FP) and Foreign Affiliates of Foreign Parents (FAFP) (aka the "foreign parent group") means all of the following:

- (i) the foreign parent, which is the first entity outside the United States in a foreign chain of ownership, that owns at least 10% (based on voting interest), directly or indirectly, of the consolidated domestic U.S. business enterprise.
- (ii) any foreign entity proceeding up the foreign parent's ownership chain, that owns more than 50 percent of the entity below it up to and including the entity that is not owned more than 50 percent by another foreign entity,
- (iii) any foreign entity that, proceeding down the ownership chain(s) of each of these members, is owned more than 50 percent by the entity above it.

Unaffiliated foreign persons – An unaffiliated foreign person is an entity domiciled abroad that is owned less than ten percent, directly or indirectly, by the U.S. Reporter or the U.S. Reporter's foreign parent.

The diagram below illustrates each of these relationships with regards to the U.S. Reporter.

C. Foreign activities of a U.S. person that do not constitute a foreign affiliate

Although the definitions of direct investment and foreign affiliate in Part II. above, together with the discussion in Part III.A above, should be sufficient to determine whether a given foreign activity is or is not a foreign affiliate, in a number of cases the determination may be difficult. Several factors to be considered are given below. If you still cannot determine if the activity or operation is an affiliate, call (301) 278-9303 or send an e-mail to be-120help@bea.gov for additional guidance.

If a U.S. person's foreign activity or operation is incorporated abroad, it is a foreign affiliate.

If a U.S. person's foreign activity or operation is not incorporated abroad, its status is based on the weight of the evidence when the factors listed below are considered.

An unincorporated foreign activity or operation generally would be considered a foreign affiliate if it: (i) is subject to foreign income taxes; (ii) has a substantial physical presence abroad (e.g., plant and equipment or employees); (iii) maintains separate financial records that would permit the preparation of financial statements, including an income statement and balance sheet (not just a record of disbursements and receipts); (iv) takes title to the goods it sells and receives revenues therefrom; or (v) receives funds for its own account from customers for services it performs. Transactions with this type of entity should be reported under "Foreign affiliates."

An unincorporated foreign activity or operation generally would not be considered a foreign affiliate if it: (i) conducts business abroad only for the U.S. person's account and not for its own account (e.g., sales promotion or public relations type of activities); (ii) has no separate financial statements; (iii) receives funds to cover its expenses only from the U.S. person; (iv) is not subject to foreign income taxes; and (v) has limited physical assets, or employees, permanently located abroad. Transactions with this type of entity should be reported under "Unaffiliated foreign persons."

D. U.S. activities of a foreign person that do not constitute a U.S. affiliate

Criteria for determining which U.S. activities do or do not constitute a U.S. affiliate of a foreign person are parallel to those in Part III.C. above.

E. Determining who must report a transaction when an intermediary is involved

At times, transactions between a U.S. person and a foreign person may be arranged by, billed through, or otherwise facilitated by, an intermediary. The intermediary may be U.S. or foreign, and may be affiliated or unaffiliated with the U.S. or the foreign person.

A determination of whom a sale is to, or whom a purchase is from, should be made on the basis of whom the U.S. person considers itself to have a claim on for payment, in the case of a sale, or whom it has a liability to, in the case of a purchase. For a sale, if the U.S. person looks to the foreign person for payment, then the transaction is between the U.S. person and the foreign person, and is to be reported by the U.S. person. If the U.S. person looks to the intermediary for payment, and the intermediary, in turn, looks to the foreign person for payment, then whether either transaction is reportable, and who it is to be reported by, depends on the location of the intermediary and the relationship between the U.S. person and the intermediary.

If the intermediary is a foreign person, then the U.S. person would report the transaction as a transaction with a foreign person.

If the intermediary is a U.S. person, then the initial transaction between the original U.S. person and the intermediary is domestic-to-domestic and not reportable in this survey. However, the intermediary must report the transaction with the foreign person.

The reportability of a purchase would be determined in a similar manner.

IV. TRANSACTION TYPES COVERED

This survey covers sales (Schedules A, C, and D) and purchases (Schedules B and E) of the following types of intellectual property and selected services.

A. Transactions in Intellectual Property

Report sales on Schedule A and purchases on Schedule B.

Rights related to patents, processes, and trade secrets

1.1 Rights related to the use of a patent, process, or trade secret to produce and/or distribute a product or service – Includes license fees, royalties, and other fees received or paid for the use of proprietary rights, including patents, industrial processes, and trade secrets. Includes "maintenance" fees paid to foreign governments for the continuation of patent rights. If the charge for the process, design, etc., is subsumed in a contract for technical or professional services, the sale or purchase generally should be reported under the proper transaction number for that service.

Examples of transactions included in this category are royalties and license fees related to the production and/or distribution of goods such as pharmaceutical products, automobiles, medical equipment, etc.

Excludes license fees related to the use or distribution of computer software (reportable under transaction codes 6.2 or 12.1) and the use or distribution of audiovisual content (reportable under transaction codes 2.1-2.2, 4.1-4.2, or 5.2).

1.3 Outright sales or purchases of proprietary rights related to patents, processes, and trade secrets – Includes the outright sale or purchase of patents, processes, and trade secrets.

Excludes subscription fees to newspapers, magazines, etc., (reportable under transaction code 14.2). Excludes fees for the rights to display or view recorded audiovisual content such as radio and television programs, motion pictures, etc. (reportable under transaction code 4.1).

2.2 Rights to reproduce and/or distribute books, music, etc., – Includes royalties and other fees received or paid for the rights to reproduce and distribute books and other print or digital media content; CDs, digital music, and other audio content; and other copyrighted or protected material.

Excludes the sale or purchase of copyrights for radio and television programs, motion pictures, etc. (reportable under transaction code 4.3). Excludes transactions related to exclusivity rights (for example, the exclusivity of a publisher to publish literary works of an author). These are considered assets that are a contract for future production, and are not reportable.

Rights related to trademarks

3.1 Rights to use trademarks – Includes sales and purchases related to rights to sell products under a particular trademark, brand name, or signature. Includes the initial fee and annual fees for the domain name registration for the Internet. Includes fees for sponsorship of other events if the fee is for the right to use the logo or trademark of the payee. A sponsor of an international sporting event, such as the Olympics, should include payments of sponsorship fees if the right to use a trademark, such as the Olympic logo, in advertising, or to place such a trademark on merchandise is conveyed.

Excludes fees received or paid under a business format franchise, which are reportable under transaction code 7.1.

3.3 Outright sales or purchases of proprietary rights related to trademarks – sales and purchases related to the outright sale or purchase of a trademark, or for its use in perpetuity. Includes sales and purchases of the outright sale or purchase of domain names.

Excludes fees paid for the display of the payer's logo or trademark (reportable as advertising services under transaction code 10). Excludes fees received or paid under a business format franchise (reportable under transaction code 7.1).

Rights related to recorded performances and events such as radio and television programs and motion pictures

Includes sales and purchases related to the authorized reproduction, rebroadcast, or retransmission of live performances and events, in part or in entirety.

Sales or purchases of rights to broadcast a major live performance or event, such as the Olympics, often extend over several years prior to the event. The cumulative amount of payments over all the years is to be reported on this form as an acquisition or sale of broadcast rights only in the single period in which the event is held. The prior year payments are considered to be deposits with the organization (such as the International Olympic Committee) selling the broadcast rights, and should be reported on the Department of Treasury's TIC C-form. Inquiries about the TIC C-form survey should be directed to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York (as contractor for the Department of Treasury) at (212) 720-6357.

Rights related to general use computer software

6.2 Rights to reproduce and/or distribute general use computer software – Includes sales and purchases related to the right to distribute general use software, and rights to reproduce general use computer software that was made from a master copy. Franchise fees

7.1 Fees associated with business format franchising – Fees received and paid by the U.S. Reporter under business format franchising agreements with foreign persons. Business format franchising is characterized by an ongoing business relationship between franchisor and franchisee that includes not only the product, service, and trademark, but the entire business format itself. This may include a marketing strategy and plan, operating manuals and standards, quality control, and continuing two-way communications.

Excludes sales and purchases related to the use of trademarks (reportable under transaction code 3.1), except where such trademarks are part of a business format franchise, even if the fees are nominally considered to be "franchising" fees.

Sales and purchases should be reported net of advertising allowances and other deductions retained by franchisees from gross franchise fees. Includes sales and purchases of one-time "up front" charges to new franchisees as well as ongoing fees based upon sales or other measures.

On Schedule A, U.S. franchisors should report sales to both foreign outlets and foreign master licensees. In the case of fees received from a foreign master licensee, report only the net fees received from foreign outlets. Include sales to "company-owned" outlets abroad. Include sales to jointly owned outlets.

On Schedule B, U.S. outlets and master licensees should report purchases made directly from foreign franchisors. U.S. outlets should not report purchases from U.S. master licensees, as these are domestic (U.S.-to-U.S.) transactions. Payments by a "company-owned" U.S. outlet to a foreign owner should be reported.

7.3 Outright sales or purchases of proprietary rights related to business format franchising – Includes the outright sale or purchase of a business format franchise to be used in perpetuity. A business format franchise is a portfolio of intellectual property that includes not only a product, service, and trademark, but the entire business format itself. This may include a marketing strategy and plan, operating manuals and standards, and quality control.

Excludes sales and purchases related to the use of trademarks or for the outright sale or purchase of trademarks (reportable under transaction codes 3.1 or 3.3), except where such trademarks are part of a business format franchise, even if the fees are nominally considered to be "franchising" fees. Excludes any fees for real property or capital equipment associated with the sale or purchase of a franchise.

Other intellectual property

8.1 Rights to use other intellectual property – Includes sales and purchases related to the right to use intellectual property not classified in one of the preceding categories. 8.2 Rights to reproduce and/or distribute other intellectual property – Includes sales and purchases related to the right to reproduce and/or distribute intellectual property not classified in one of the preceding categories. When reporting data under this transaction code, specify on line 35 of the appropriate schedule the type of intellectual property involved.

When reporting data under this transaction code, specify on line 35 of the appropriate schedule the type of intellectual property involved.

B. Transactions in Selected Services

Report sales on Schedules A (except transaction code 13, which is reportable on Schedule C) and purchases on Schedules B. Reporters of sales and/or purchases of transaction codes 9, 10, 12.3, 13, 15, 16.1-16.3, 20, and 21.3 must also complete Schedules D and/or E.

Excludes data processing and tabulation services (reportable under transaction code 12.2).

If you report sales and/or purchases of this service, you must also complete Schedules D and/or E.

- 10 Advertising services – Preparation of advertising and placement of such advertising in media, including charges for media space and time. Includes advertising banners on web pages. An advertising agency selling such services should report gross billings to unaffiliated foreigners. Sales by media companies (e.g., broadcasters, publishers, etc.) that are arranged through U.S. advertising agencies are presumed to be reflected in billings of the advertising agencies; thus, in order to avoid duplication, report only direct transactions with foreign clients.

Excludes transactions that are with the U.S. affiliates of foreign clients, rather than directly with foreign clients; such transactions are considered domestic (U.S.-to-U.S.) and, therefore, outside the scope of this survey.

Excludes charges for services other than advertising, such as public relations or market research not directly associated with an advertising campaign (reportable under transaction code 21.1). U.S. media companies should report only direct sales of advertising services to unaffiliated foreign persons; they should not report advertising arranged by U.S. advertising agencies, including U.S. affiliates of foreign advertising agencies.

Under purchases of advertising services, U.S. Reporters that are advertising agencies should report only funds paid to foreign advertising agencies and media companies on behalf of their clients.

U.S. Reporters other than advertising agencies should report only payments made directly to foreign advertising agencies and media companies. Do not report payments made through a U.S. advertising agency. Also, do not report payments made through the U.S. office of a foreign advertising agency if your payment is made to the U.S. office.

Includes the value of reciprocal exchanges; i.e., transactions involving barter. On Schedule A, value your sales to the foreign participant in the reciprocal exchange at market rates, not at the actual cost of performing the services. On Schedule B, value your purchases from the foreign participant at the same amount as the sales reported on Schedule A.

If you report sales and/or purchases of this service, you must also complete Schedules D and/or E.

- 11 Auxiliary insurance services – Agent's commissions, insurance brokering and agency services, insurance consulting services, evaluation and adjustment services, actuarial services, salvage administration services, and regulatory and monitoring services on indemnities and recovery services. Non-insurance companies should report these transactions on this survey. A copy of the form can be downloaded from www.bea.gov/ssb.

- 12.1 Computer software, including end-user licenses and customization services – Includes customized software (however delivered) and related licenses to use; the development, production, supply, and documentation of customized software, including operating systems, made to order for specific users; licenses to use non-customized software provided on a storage device with a periodic license fee; sales or purchases of originals and ownership rights for software systems and applications, downloaded or otherwise electronically delivered; includes non-customized (mass-produced) software downloaded or otherwise electronically delivered, whether with a periodic license or a single payment. Software includes general business productivity software, computer game software, and other applications.

Includes software downloaded from the Internet, fees and subscriptions for online gaming (including video games), and licensing agreements and end-user fees associated with downloading applications on to smart phones and tablets. Fees for developing such applications, however, should be reported under transaction code 29.1.

Excludes non-customized (prepackaged) computer software on physical media for perpetual use shipped to or from the United States and reported on import or export declarations filed with the U.S. Customs and Border Protection. Also excludes computer training courses not designed for a specific user (reportable under education services), charges for licenses to reproduce or distribute software (reportable under rights to reproduce and/or distribute general use computer software), and leasing of computers with an operator (reportable under operational leasing).

- 12.2 Cloud computing and data storage services – Includes data processing and hosting services (cloud services or "wiki"), such as data entry, tabulation, and processing on a time-sharing basis; web page hosting services; and provision of applications, hosting clients' content including applications, and digital media.

- 12.3 Other computer services – Includes hardware and software consultancy and implementation services, including the management of subcontracted computer services; hardware and software installation, including installation of mainframes and central computing units; maintenance and repairs of computers and peripheral equipment; computer facilities management; data recovery services; analysis, design, and programming of systems ready to use (including web page development and design), and technical consultancy related to software; systems maintenance and other support services, including training provided as part of consultancy.

If you report sales and/or purchases of this service, you must also complete Schedules D and/or E.

The reporting of foreign expenses and disbursements related to the sales of architectural, engineering, and surveying services is no longer required.

16.1 Architectural services – Includes architectural design related to landscaping, urban planning, and other development projects; and transactions related to the design of buildings.

If you report sales and/or purchases of this service, you must also complete Schedules D and/or E.

16.2 Engineering services – Includes the design, development, and utilization of machines, materials, instruments, structures, processes, and systems. Services of this type involve the provision of designs, plans, and studies related to engineering projects. Includes civil engineering services; industrial engineering services; and water resource engineering. 17 Financial services (purchases only) – Includes payment of credit-related fees, fees on securities transactions, and fees for other financial services. Financial services companies should only report these services on the BE-185, Quarterly Survey of Financial Services Transactions Between U.S. Financial Services Providers and Foreign Persons. A copy of the form can be downloaded from www.bea.gov/ssb.

Credit-related fees include fees for establishing, maintaining, or arranging credit, letters of credit, bankers acceptances, mortgages, factoring services, loan guarantees, etc., that are commonly provided by foreign banking establishments. Include fees paid directly and fees that are withheld or deducted from your proceeds by the foreign person. For example, for factoring services, the fee may be calculated as the difference between the proceeds you received from the sale of your receivables and the face amount of the receivables sold; for arranging credit, letters of credit, etc., it may be calculated as the difference between the proceeds you received from the loan, letter of credit, etc. (after the deduction of the fee) and your liability to the foreign lending establishment. Report credit-related fees in the accounting period in which they are incurred, whether or not expensed in that accounting period. Excludes interest on your obligations, because interest is a payment for the use of the loan proceeds and is not a fee for the establishment, maintenance, or arrangement of credit.

Fees on securities transactions include commissions and other fees for securities transactions (including transactions in derivatives) or futures trading, such as brokerage, underwriting, private placements, etc. Fees for such services would commonly be paid to foreign investment banks and securities brokers or dealers. Include fees that can be calculated from transactions records or other documentation issued by the investment bank or security broker or dealer. Omit, rather than attempt to estimate, these fees if they cannot be calculated from such documentation. (For example, a dealer's markup on bond purchases and sales cannot be directly estimated from transactions records issued by a securities dealer.)

Fees for other financial services include fees for asset/liability management, debt renegotiation, and other financial services.

19.2 Installation, alteration, and training services – Includes only installation, startup, and training services provided by a manufacturer in connection with the sale of a good.

Excludes such services where the cost is included in the price of the goods and not separately billed, or is declared as a part of the price of the goods on the import or export declaration filed with the U.S. Customs and Border Protection; however, services provided at a price over and above that entered on the declaration should be included. These services would be reported elsewhere if not received in connection with the purchase of goods. For example, installation of machinery and equipment is normally considered a construction activity, and training personnel in the use of new machinery would ordinarily be reported as an educational or training service.

20 Legal services – Includes services provided in a range of, or in a specific area of law, such as criminal law, corporate law, or real estate law. Includes the provision of other legal services by businesses such as notary public services, patent agent services and real estate settlement offices.

If you report sales and/or purchases of this service, you must also complete Schedules D and/or E.

excludes transactions between parent companies and affiliates that are identifiable as arising from the provision of advertising, accounting, legal, R&D, etc. services, even if these amounts represent reimbursements of sums paid to third parties. That is, transactions between parent companies and affiliates should not be reported in management services if they can instead be reported in another services category.

If you report sales and/or purchases of this service, you must also complete Schedules D and/or E.

- 22 Merchancing services (net receipts, Schedule A only) – Sales of merchancing services are equal to the difference between your cost and the resale price of goods (such as crude oil, grain, and other commodities) that are both purchased and resold abroad; that is, the goods are neither imported to, nor exported from, the United States and they do not undergo significant processing during the time between when they are purchased and resold. Without regard to whether you initially purchased the goods from an affiliated or unaffiliated foreign person, report data for those transactions according to the company's relationship with the foreign entity (foreign affiliate, foreign parent group, or unaffiliated foreign person) to which the goods were resold. Only the "Total, all countries this page" (line 34 of Schedule A) is required to be reported for this service, even if total sales exceed $2 million. Any data that are voluntarily reported by individual foreign country should be reported according to the individual foreign countries to which the goods were resold (and not the foreign countries from which the goods were purchased).

- 23 Mining services – Includes drilling wells for oil or gas field operations; exploration, including prospecting and taking ore samples; grading and building foundations at well locations; well surveying; and making geological observations. Includes services purchased in connection with proposed projects (e.g. feasibility studies) as well as projects that are actually being carried out.

- 24 Operational leasing – Rentals for computer and data processing equipment; transportation equipment (such as ships, aircraft, railway cars, containers, rigs automotive fleets, etc.) without crew or operators (if crew or operators are provided, the fee is considered to be for transportation services, which may be reportable on BEA forms BE-9, BE-30, or BE-37. Go to www.bea.gov/ssb to determine which forms cover your particular transportation services); and rentals of other machinery and equipment. Include fees from rentals of furniture, coin-operated machines, construction equipment (without operators), and electronic equipment.

Excludes rentals under leases that have been capitalized (capital leases) and rentals of any items other than machinery and equipment. For example, excludes rentals of office buildings and other real estate, film rentals, and employee leasing.

As used here, "performers" means entertainers, sports teams, orchestras, dance companies, lecturers, and similar persons or performing groups such as artists, sculptors, authors, models, etc. Includes fees related to the production of live performances and events.

Excludes fees paid to employees of the entity making payments, such as foreign athletes who play for U.S. resident sports teams. Excludes production costs related to radio and television programs and motion pictures (reportable under transaction code 34).

NOTE: Transactions previously reported on the BE-120 and BE-125 surveys under transaction code 26, performing arts, sports, and other live performances, presentations and events should be reported in this category.

Note for transaction codes 27 and 28: When you report either transaction codes 27 or 28, also report the other transaction code on a separate Schedule B. If there are transactions for one of these but not for the other, enter "NA" on line 35 of the Schedule with no transactions.

- 27 Primary insurance premiums (Schedule B only) – Premiums (net of cancellations) paid to foreign insurance carriers. A U.S. Reporter that is an insurance company should not report direct transactions with a foreign insurance company. However, a U.S. Reporter that is not an insurance company that purchased insurance from an affiliated foreign insurance company (for example, a captive insurance affiliate) should report those purchases here.

- 28 Losses recovered on primary insurance (Schedule B only) – Losses recovered on insurance purchased from foreign insurance carriers. A U.S. Reporter that is an insurance company should not report losses recovered from a foreign insurance company. However, a U.S. Reporter that is not an insurance company that purchased insurance from an affiliated foreign insurance company (for example, a captive insurance affiliate) should report losses recovered here.

- 29.1 Provision of customized and non-customized research and development services – Includes work aimed at discovering new knowledge or developing new or significantly improved goods and services. Covers the provision of research and development services that are made-to-order (customized) and development of non-customized research and development services, excluding sales of proprietary rights, and sales related to licenses to reproduce or use. On Schedule B, report payouts to foreign persons (communications companies and PTT's) for their share of revenues for transmitting messages originating in the United States to foreign destinations. Also report receipts for transmitting messages between foreign points when not offered in connection with enhanced services, call-back services, and other regulated services of the type reportable to the FCC on Report 43.61.

Reciprocal exchanges – Includes the value of reciprocal exchanges; i.e., transactions involving barter. On Schedule A, value your sales to the foreign participant in the reciprocal exchange at market rates, not at the actual cost of performing the services. On Schedule B, value your purchases from the foreign participant at the same amounts as the sales reported on Schedule A.

- 32 Health services – Includes general and specialized human health services provided by hospitals, doctors, nurses, etc., as well as laboratory, diagnostic, and similar services, whether provided remotely or on-site in the host economy. The manufacturing is undertaken by a business that does NOT own the goods—the “manufacturing service provider”—and that is paid a fee by the owner of the goods. Ownership of the goods does not transfer to the manufacturing service provider. Examples of processes that are often conducted under contract manufacturing arrangements include oil refining, liquefaction of natural gas, assembly of clothing, electronics and other goods, and labeling and packing (excluding those incidental to transport).

NOTE: Reporters of sales of contract manufacturing services on Schedule A must also complete questions 9 and 10 on page 9. Reporters of purchases of manufacturing services on Schedule B must also complete questions 12 and 13 on page 10.

Note for miscellaneous disbursements: Where a set of related expenditures was made in several countries, but your recordkeeping does not permit a precise allocation of expenses among individual countries, estimates are acceptable. If no basis for such estimates exists, then you may record the expenditures against the country in which the activities were centered or headquartered. For example, a news correspondent may conduct news-gathering activities in several countries. Although it would be preferable to report news-gathering expenses in each of the several countries, all of the expenses may, if necessary, be recorded against the country where the foreign news bureau is headquartered, or where the correspondent had the largest outlays.

Excludes travel, transportation, insurance, financial services, and expenditures by students and medical patients who are studying or seeking treatment in a country different from their country of residence, which are outside the scope of this survey.

Also include services not elsewhere classified, except those that are outside the scope of this survey.
